ITB PHOTOP: Sherman Phoenix Grand Opening • WWBIC IMPACT Event

SHERMAN PHOENIX

The Sherman Phoenix officially rose recently at 3536 W. Fond du Lac Ave. residents joined the developers of the project JoAnne Johnson-Sabir and Juli Kaufmann, almost 30 vendors with businesses within the space, and political and community leaders in celebrating the new space which aims to foster change by transforming the eastern gateway to the Sherman Park neighborhood in Milwaukee into a safe, welcoming space that supports small businesses-of-color offering diverse foods, wellness services and cultural activities.

The socially just and culturally rich real estate project will provide mentorship and coaching to help entrepreneurs of color grow their businesses, generate jobs and support the local economy.

WWBIC IMPACT

“30 Years of Impact” was the theme of this year’s Wisconsin Women’s Business Initiative Corp. (WWBIC) annual luncheon held recently at the Potawatomi Hotel and Casino. Each fall, WWBIC showcases its clients and work at the annual luncheon. Three women entrepreneurs spoke at this year’s event: Deborah Allen, WWBIC business plan class graduate; former McDonald’s franchise owner; Sarah Koch, vice president of Social Innovation at Case Foundation; and Cynthia Laconte, CEO of the Dohmen Co., and president of the Dohmen Co. Foundation. The luncheon was presented by Johnson Financial Group.

This ‘friend’ fundraiser has grown to become a fan favorite and is a high energy impactful support vehicle for small business in Wisconsin. A multitude of businesses and their owners had exhibit booths with their products.

COMMENTARY... What if Black Professional Athletes Respected Black Economic Empowerment?

By Harry C. Alford & Kay DeBow, courtesy of NNPA, Blackpressusa.com

Oh, what a wonderful world this would be for Black communities throughout our nation. We, as a people, have over $1.3 trillion (T) in annual spending. However, our Black-owned businesses account for over $183 billion.

Do you see the problem? We don't recycle our money within our own communities. Not even 20 percent of what we have stays within our own business infrastructure.

As Malcolm X once remarked, "The 'eagle' flies on Friday in Black communities and by noon Saturday it is one dead bird." Nothing recycles and thus, nothing is going to build or grow larger. We are consumer slaves.

We live in a complex on the Virginia side of Washington, DC. A few of our neighbors are professional athletes. You can always tell when their crew is assembling.

The parking area out front suddenly looks like a Maybach or Lamborghini car dealership. There is a million dollars' worth of depreciating assets right before our eyes.

They think it is so cool. We think it is depressing. I guess it is their money and their business. However, if we look collectively there is an immense

COMMENTARY

opportunity slipping right before our eyes
The Black percentage of professional football players exceeds 70%. The National Basketball Association approaches 90% +. These gifted athletes control billions of dollars that could be directed to significant economic empowerment for the Black communities from which they come. Allow us to show you a few examples of what could be done.

Basketball arenas and football stadiums are being built around our nation on an ongoing basis. Right now, there is usually no Black participation included during the construction and design of these stadiums. Levi Stadium in California had only 1.4% participation. Imagine if the Players' Associations for these two sports would put this on the negotiating table before the owners: Thirty percent of all construction performed on the next stadiums be done by Black-owned and -managed construction firms.

That should include architecture and engineering followed by construction management and all prime and subcontracting, accounting, all legal services. The stadiums should be built in areas that will not gentrify Black neighborhoods and business communities. Thirty percent of all concessions, restaurants, etc. that are allowed within the stadiums and arenas must be Black owned. Black advertising and public relations firms should be included.

Levi Stadium brings up another matter. The NFL and NBA player associations seem to have a great affinity to construction unions. They assume that they are fair and equitable to Black labor. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Only 2% of Black-owned construction companies are union.

Why? Because of the Jim Crow treatment by these construction unions. The time is overdue for these Black athletes to step up and do the only responsible thing they can do. Don't tolerate racist construction unions. Hell no! to solidarity.

Additionally, where are these teams parking their money? Financial institutions and money management firms should have significant Black utilization. Significant should equate to over 30%. No more scandals such as Merrill Lynch bilking NBA players with the encouragement of their upper management (a Black CEO).

The athletes must participate in the selection of the Super Bowl city. There should be a rating system which determines the likelihood of racially diverse people participating in the wealth that a Super Bowl brings. Which city will have the blackest vendors? Who is printing the jerseys, the T-shirts, the souvenir books? Who is advertising the Super Bowl? And may we suggest that teams look for Black owned hotels.

These team owners are asleep at the wheel of diversity and inclusivity. They must feel pressured to have desire for diversity. The pressure will come from the athletes. Just because these teams have been using select vendors for dozens of decades doesn't mean they can't change now. The sooner they do it the better off America will be.

The player associations should have formal Memorandums of Understanding with the top Black professional organizations such as Black architecture and engineering associations, Black contractors, banks, accounting associations, attorneys, realtors, etc.

This God-given natural athletic ability that is blessed on our people must be used via wide distribution of its influence and effects. These MOU's should be publicized with ongoing updates to ensure that it is not just "window dressing" but real deal economic empowerment.

Now this would change the world! After doing that correctly we could move to our entertainers who would only perform at venues that have documented proof of Black construction, architecture/engineering participation.

Again, God has blessed us with remarkable talent. Let's leverage it. Oh, how badly we need a bigger share of that $1.3 trillion. We can't think of a better way. Our destiny is in our own hands.

OPEN LETTER TO OUR READERS

Milwaukee Community Journal is an actual brick and mortar building, not just an online entity. I was downstairs reviewing our equipment in the storage office and it's like visiting a museum. Old relics, equipment, computers, software and past editions illuminate 42 years journaling the history of change.

Since our origin in 76, we've moved with our audience. Today our readers are predominantly millennials, 18-40 years of age, shakers and movers, the buyers! They are buying homes, cars, raising families. They are eating "fresh," active in politics, exercising and partying.

Our readers find us in print, with our twice-weekly editions in tenured retail outlets, churches and selective distribution spots. But they also read us online at milwaukeecommunityjournal.com We're in this to win this! We're dynamic....crisp clear....interactive...and to be honest - exploding with information that you want to read!

We're perfect for new and established advertisers! We want more local interaction and community written articles. We want to offer more millennial access to a proven community source.

This is who we are, but one thing is still deep on our hearts, and that is you've got to join our team.

You're the community part of the Milwaukee community journal. Let's build together!--

Speech Thomas, The Milwaukee Community Journal, Wisconsin's Largest African-American Newspaper.
