WISCONSIN'S LARGEST AFRICAN AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY MILWAUKEE COMMUNITY JOURNAL!

44 YEARS AND COUNTING OF HAVING OUR FINGER ON BLACK MILWAUKEE'S PULSE!

Compiled by MCJ Editorial Staff

This week marks the 44th Anniversary of your Milwaukee Community Journal (MCJ), upon which we embarked on our mission and goal: “We want to accentuate the positives” of the city’s African American community.

The MCJ logo pretty much spells out what we’re about--our community--and those things that are at the foundation of what makes up a community: home and family; business and economy; church and faith; the flag, connoting political awareness; building neighborhoods and country; and the schoolhouse, representing education, the key to upward mobility and solidarity. These principles and institutions were—and are—the definable objectives of our focus and delivery. They have remained authentic for 44 years. Community is more than a word, it is a mission. The symbols within the logo hold as much weight today as when we began.

From a paltry group of four individuals: Patricia O’Flynn (Thomas ) Pattillo, Robert Thomas, Jimmy Ewing and Mikel Holt, this institution has served and employed, driven by the principals of the initial logo.

The Milwaukee Community Journal, with its Wednesday and Friday (Weekend) editions, a burgeoning digital presence, the holder of a state certification as an official newspaper publishing legal notifications, along with being the largest circulated Black Publication in Wisconsin, are hard earned achievements that are deeply respected by our peers in the industry, the city and community.

Even during COVID-19 and an unprecedented year of change and advertising losses, MCJ has proven itself an “essential” institution. With a reduced staff of talented professionals who just keep on giving and fighting to exist and succeed, MCJ has managed to reach another anniversary. We thank every reader, advertiser and every staff member who simply refused to let the

Another ‘worst’ for the ‘Brew City’!

Research organization tabs Milwaukee as worst of 48 U.S. cities for racial equity in civic engagement; single parent families a major contributing factor

By Mikel Holt

That long ignored elephant in the room just keeps growing and growing.

Milwaukee, identified by several national research organizations as the worst city in America for African Americans based on seven negative social indicators, has now been tagged for yet another.

This time, a national economic research firm has tabbed Milwaukee as the worst among 48 of the nation’s largest cities for racial equality in civic engagement.

Milwaukee, at 48th of the 48 cities studied, edged out Washington, D.C., for this ‘distinction.’

At the other end of the spectrum was Albuquerque, New Mexico, which despite having a relatively small African American population, nonetheless scored much higher on metrics used for the study.

The report was commissioned by the economic organization WalletHub and was based on five metrics--

--voter turnout rate, volunteer rate, percentage of population on parole, share of veterans and percentage of single parent households.

With 70% of African American families in Milwaukee being headed by a single parent, Wisconsin ranked dead last in that category, significantly impacting the study results.

And, with the highest Black male incarceration rate in the country, it was not surprising that Wisconsin was ranked 45th in its share of adults on parole.

Wisconsin ranked 41st for veterans, and 38th for volunteers.

Surprisingly, Wisconsin ranked 33rd for Black voter turnout.

WalletHub analyst Jill Gonzalez attributed the voter turnout ranking to restrictions imposed to limit Black voter participation, including ID requirements.

“In order to make sure that people of all races have the same opportunity for political participation, we should start by making it easier to register to vote,” Gonzalez said.

“One way to make registration easier is by having it be ‘opt-out’ rather than ‘opt-in’ so people are registered by default, which 16 states have already implemented.

“When it comes to Election Day, we should make sure that minorities have as much access to polling stations as White Americans, and we should consider

Assembly candidate says economics, education, policing, and healthcare must be addressed in order to bring change to 17th district

Economic development, education funding, police reform, and healthcare are the top four areas Mike Brox promises to tackle if elected to the state Assembly District 17 seat.

The founder of Afro Fest, and an MPS educator for 28 years, Brox is vying for the seat once held by former state Rep. David Crowley, who is now Milwaukee County Executive, and the first African American elected to the position in the county's history.

Brox will face off against Milwaukee County Supervisor Supreme Moore Omokunde, and Chris Walton.

Under the campaign slogan: 'We Are In This Together!' Brox believes he can bring the district together to fight for:

- Economic Development—Brox says he will fight to see that businesses and families in the district receive the financial support they need to weather the COVID-19 pandemic and beyond it.

- "My number one priority will be too see that (the 17 district's) needs are met immediately during this Coronavirus pandemic."

- Restoring Education Funding—Noting historic cuts to the state's K-12 schools, tech colleges, and the UW-System, Brox said he will fight to restore funding in the public education system.

"I promise to expand healthcare to include people with disabilities, our seniors, as well as counseling to help families and individuals address the tremendous strain both mentally and financially on the community."

Mike Brox

- Policing Policies—Brox promises to fight to eliminate the use of 'choke holds' during police arrests, including the 'knee-to-the-neck restraint used to kill George Floyd in Minneapolis three months ago, that has sparked protests across the nation and world against police brutality, and calls for police reform, and the elimination of systemic racism.

- Expanding Healthcare Options—"The Coronavirus has placed (the state) in uncharted waters. I promise to expand healthcare to include people with disabilities, our seniors, as well as counseling to help families and individuals address the tremendous strain both mentally and financially on the community."—Article compiled by MCJ Editorial Staff

New Good Hope Library Opens!

Mayor Tom Barrett recently helped cut the ribbon officially opening the new Good Hope Library, located at 7717 W. Good Hope Road. This state of the art mixed-use development has been in the works for several years and will be the first library to reopen amid the continuing COVID-19 pandemic. The new branch features meeting spaces, a children's area, greater access to technology, and much more. While some restrictions will apply, access to computers and Wi-Fi, book pick-ups, and reference services will be available. This library will serve as another staple of the New 9th as it continues to make the district and the northwest side one of the best places to work and play in Milwaukee.

Google Arts & Culture highlights all that Milwaukee has to offer

Last week it was announced that Google had launched a Milwaukee experience on its virtual Arts & Culture platform which aims to make local culture more accessible to anyone, anywhere at any time. Milwaukee becomes the second city to receive this designation.

The Milwaukee Google Arts & Culture page can be found by visiting g.co/Milwaukee or by downloading the Arts & Culture iOS or Android mobile app.

Common Council President Cavalier Johnson is excited for Milwaukee to receive this recognition. "Those of us who live here know just how amazing the arts and culture scene is in Milwaukee, particularly during the summer months," said Alderman Johnson.

"While the COVID-19 pandemic has limited the amount of activity that can happen this summer, people from across the country and the world will be able to experience Milwaukee virtually and discover how great our city truly is."

The page titled "Milwaukee: Fiercely Independent, Wholly Unexpected" includes more than 2,000 pieces of art and artifacts from local institutions. Visitors have the option to choose an adventure based on meeting creatives, taking a tour, exploring food, checking out art and much more.

Google Arts & Culture Milwaukee partners include: Milwaukee Art Museum, Radio Milwaukee, Visit Milwaukee, the Grohmann Museum at MSOE, the Harley-Davidson Museum, Imagine MKE, Sculpture Milwaukee, the Haggerty Museum at Marquette University, Milwaukee County Parks, Milwaukee Repertory Theater, Milwaukee Public Museum, Charles Allis Art Museum, Milwaukee Youth Symphony Orchestra, First Stage, the Chudnow Museum of Yesteryear, and the Milwaukee Institute of Art and Design.

The Brew City's newest 'worst'!

making the day a federal holiday or at least extending voting hours so that everyone has the time to go vote," she said.

Wisconsin's voting status was impacted by the most recent election in which only a handful of polling sites were open in Milwaukee, compared to dozens in suburbs and cities with small Black populations like Madison.

The local election commission came under fire for its inability to adjust to the COVID-19 pandemic. The head of the election resigned after the fiasco.

The report's statistical data revealed what some social analysts have long feared as a major contributing factor to poverty—single parent headed households.

A half century after the controversial Moynihan Report, the author's predicted sociocultural paradigm has become a reality.

The slow demise of the Black nuclear family has resulted in a state of dysfunctionality.

Yet even as Milwaukee has become an alarming national showcase in that regard, highlighted by the nation's largest poverty, unemployment and academic failure rates in the country, politicians and Black leadership continue to hide their heads in the sand. Republicans continue to blame the victims of American apartheid, while Democrats promote programs to make the poor comfortable in their poverty, instead of empowering them to break the chains of dependency.

The report indirectly notes the causation between poverty and the nation-leading Black male incarceration rate. The poverty index is exacerbated by a single-family income.

Not only does single parent households generally mean impoverishment, but it also impacts crime, and lower education attainment.

Separate studies have revealed a majority of prison inmates come from poor, female headed households.

Most also lack a high school diploma or were academic underachievers.

This toxic mix also impacts the electoral process, with fewer poor Black individuals participating in elections.

That may change this fall because of the focus on elections in light of the George Floyd national protests which are being led, primarily, by Black youth.

RELIGION

RELIGIOUS COMMENTARY By Otis Moss

A Message to the Church

The writer James Baldwin stated in 1962, “It is, alas, the truth that to be an American writer today means mounting an unending attack on all that Americans believe themselves to hold sacred.”

It is the truth that to be a person of faith in America today is to recognize that America desires Jesus slogans over morally grounded Jesus-inspired action.

America as a nation stands on the precipice of what Rev. William Barber II refers to as “the third reconstruction,” a moment in history when the zeitgeist of the nation clashes with the myth of our history.

The nationwide unrest, witnessed from Maine to California, is part of America’s reckoning with a lie this nation has refused to acknowledge.

As a nation, racialized thinking and white supremacy is part of not only our history, but saturates all of our institutions. I will not bore you with historical details, but scholars such as Michelle Alexander, Ibram X. Kendi, Carol Anderson, and Richard Rothstein make the case powerfully that America has a spiritual malady supported by institutions that either aggressively promote these ideals or willfully ignore their reality.

Our national reckoning and possible reconstruction rest at the epicenter of this myth many today courageously seek to exorcise from our body politic.

Portland and cities such as Chicago, where I live, work, and serve, offer an additional challenge to people who want to be free of the lie that comes with loving whiteness over ethnicity and power over democracy. One must understand whiteness is a socially constructed identity, created in reaction to Blackness. Ethnicity, on the other hand, is a culturally rooted identity of shared story, music, and usually, good food. One quickly sets up a hierarchy. The other sets a table and tells stories enabling people to struggle to find common chords in the collective human enterprise.

Federal troops being sent to Portland, and possibly Chicago, complicates the movement for Black lives. The case of Portland serves as a map to help us avoid marginalizing Black voices: In a city that is 77 percent white, (continued on page 5)

Coalition to March on the DNC to Announce March Route

On Thursday, August 6, at 4:30 PM the Coalition to March on the Democratic National Convention (DNC) will be holding a press conference to announce the planned march route for the demonstration on August 20.

The press conference will take place just outside the entrance to the Wisconsin Center on the corner of Vel R. Phillips and Wisconsin.

“Since we started organizing the March on the DNC, our main goal has been to defeat Donald Trump.

He is the key figure in promoting racist killings of Black, Latino and Native people, whether by vigilantes or the police,” said Ryan Hamann, one of the co-chairs of the Coalition.

Hamann continued, “But we need to also be clear in demanding that Joe Biden and the Democrats stop these killer cops who operate in Democrat-controlled cities like right here in Milwaukee.

This is why we're organizing to march on the DNC. We must continue to build the people's movements, but especially against police crimes and for community control of the police.”

Representatives of the families of Isaiah Tucker of Oshkosh and Jonathon Tubby of Green Bay, two men murder by police, will be there to share their stories. The Coalition is working to unite more families, particularly in Milwaukee and the surrounding areas, to attend and speak at the event.

The Milwaukee Alliance Against Racist & Political Repression, a Coalition member, is an integral part in the fight for justice for victims of killer cops locally. They've led or participated in many of the actions demanding justice for “Thee Three” - Alvin Cole, Jay Anderson, and Antonio Gonzales.

“What we're hoping to do during the DNC is shine a spotlight on the fact that killer cops exist everywhere, whether it's a big city like Milwaukee or a smaller town like Oshkosh. We want to bring together as many families as possible from across Wisconsin and the greater Midwest,” said Lauryn Cross, a leader with the Milwaukee Alliance.

“We want to make sure their cases get the national attention and pressure that they deserve. Cops are occupying our communities all across the country, killing Black, Latino, and indigenous people without consequence. We can't breathe,” said Cross.

RELIGIOUS COMMENTARY

where a coalition organized and led by Black activists is speaking directly to America's lie of equality, we witness the stories Black anguish quieted by those on the Left and the Right along with media commentators.

Federal troops in camouflage, without insignia, have engaged white protesters in a manner Black people have screamed about to this nation since the early formation of policing, modeled after southern slave patrols.

White protesters in Portland were given a glimpse of how Black lives do not matter in the face of state-sanctioned violence. As a result, protests swelled in Portland and news coverage increased — not to highlight racial inequity, Black pain, or the racialized deployment of the police, but instead to highlight the horrific federal transgression of constitutional authority.

The heightened sensitivity was again connected to America's historical lie reasserting itself. White citizens were being treated as “three fifths” of a person.

The outrage shifted from policy, defunding the police, reparations, courageous conversations on race, repentance, and what does justice look like in America to legitimate constitutional questions that again failed to acknowledge Black suffering.

Republicans using the Lee Atwater and Karl Rove handbooks seized upon this moment to speak of “outside agitators” to frame an “alt-right” interpretation of the protests.

This strategy is not unlike the propaganda deployed against Martin Luther King Jr. by George Wallace in Alabama. America's racial lie has an undercurrent that does not believe that “three-fifths semi-citizens” have the intellectual capacity for free agency and must be under some “sinister” influence from the Left.

Again, Black suffering was silenced and white discomfort and pain was lifted up in the process. People of faith, those who claim Jesus, have a moral obligation and spiritual call to resist participation in this complicated social sin.

How people of faith answer in this moment will determine the future of the American church. Will believers in Jesus decide to be chaplains for the empire or prophets to the nation?

THE MILWAUKEE COMMUNITY JOURNAL FORTY-FOUR YEARS AND COUNTING!

community down.

This year, MCJ does not have its anniversary Special Edition, nor will we have our annual Scholarship Brunch at the Italian Conference Center due to COVID-19.

But through continuing education grants, buffered by the bequeath of Mrs. Ernestine O'Bee, plus the generosity of the Dr. Terence N. Thomas Memorial Scholarship Fund, Inc. Board, corporate friends and people who have witnessed the successes of the Dr. Terence N. Thomas scholars, a virtual celebration of “Seeding Success” shall proceed Sunday, August 9.

Expect to learn more as this celebration is recorded and digitized for a Premiere Community-Wide Fundraising Event on Thanksgiving weekend. Several pieces of art shall be available for bid, along with compelling oral stories about the success of past alums of the Dr. Thomas Fund, as they congratulate the Class of 2020.

Two new scholars will be inducted into this class. Yet 25 superb scholars sought the $ 2000 per annum stipend, issued to varied accepted scholars throughout their academic careers. A total of nine additional scholars, from sophomore to senior year, along with two post graduates, one being in the International Communications and Policy at Johns Hopkins University, and the other in the University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Law, will be granted their awards again. Our requests exceed our funds; and their needs exceed our desire to support. Ninety-eight percent of the scholars graduate and 85% continue post graduate studies.

The Dr. Thomas Fund tracks every scholar from their acceptance into the fund throughout their academic and professional careers. We “seed success” that is traceable and exponential in strengthening families, neighborhoods, cities and states.

Join us in celebrating these magnanimous leaders. Toast their tenacious scholastic prowess and record them as future leaders.

Watch for the “Seeding Success,” the Dr. Terence N. Thomas Memorial Scholarship Fund Premiere on Thanksgiving weekend; and plan to donate to excellence. Support education. Education strengthens all of the other symbols in the MCJ logo and brand.

Now, we toast you, we thank you; you are the community in our logo, our mission, our passion and our success.

Your Milwaukee Community Journal...age 44; saluting the Dr. Terence N. Thomas Scholars Class of 2020. Mark your calendar. They are because you care!

We, the staff and management of the Milwaukee Community Journal THANK YOU!

Chaplains are in a position to advise those in power, but the proximity to power recuses them from the call to resist, rebel, and join revolutionary movements. The prophet, on the other hand, seeks to disrupt power and has a heart that holds the memory of Rachel's tears, the orphan's death, and the poor's exploitation as sacraments for a faithful journey. People of faith, in this moment, must decide: Shall we follow a dark-skinned Palestinian Jew, who cast his lot with those who had their backs against the wall, or will we march with the advisers of Herod, hoping our presence is enough to keep an arrogant Herod from harming all the Hebrew children?

The deployment of federal troops as a Roman legion seeking to possess the streets of Portland and Chicago must be resisted by people of faith, who have been baptized by the radical notions of Jesus who lived, loved, and ministered with and to the disinherited. How we respond to this moment will determine the future of the American church. Shall we be chaplains or prophets? The question is upon us. What shall be your answer to this moment of history?

Notice of Partisan Primary and

Sample Ballots

August 11, 2020

OFFICE OF THE MILWAUKEE COUNTY ELECTION COMMISSION

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF MILWAUKEE:

Notice is hereby given of a partisan primary to be held in the City of Milwaukee on August 11, 2020, at which the nominees for the offices named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office under the appropriate party, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, if any, in the sample ballot included with this notice.

Information to Voters

Upon entering the polling place, a voter shall state his or her name and address, show an acceptable form of photo identification and sign the poll book before being permitted to vote. If a voter does not have acceptable photo identification, the voter may obtain a free photo ID for voting from the Division of Motor Vehicles. If a voter is not registered to vote, a voter may register to vote at the polling place serving his or her residence, if the voter presents proof of residence in a form specified by law. Where ballots are distributed to voters, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the voter shall retire alone to a voting booth and cast his or her ballot except that a voter who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the voter's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the voter of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

At the partisan primary, the voter shall select the party of his or her choice. Voting for candidates of more than one party may invalidate the ballot. The voter must cast a vote for individual candidates.

Where Optical Scan Voting is used

- If a party preference is designated, and votes are cast for ballot candidates of another party or write-in votes are cast in another party, only votes cast in the designated party will count.
- If a party preference is not designated, and votes are cast for candidates (or write-in votes are cast) in more than one party, no votes will be counted

Within the party of his or her choice, the voter shall fill in the oval next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote and fill in the oval next to the write-in line.

When using an electronic ballot marking device (“Automark” or “Express Vote”) to mark an optical scan ballot, the voter shall touch the screen at the party of his or her choice. The voter shall then touch the screen at the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall type in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote.

The vote should not be cast in any other manner. Not more than five minutes’ time shall be allowed inside a voting booth. Sample ballots or other materials to assist the voter in marking his or her vote may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

Spoiled Ballots

If a voter spoils an optical scan ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one voter. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the voter shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place.

After Voting the Ballot

After an official optical scan ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the security sleeve, so the marks do not show. The voter shall then insert the ballot in the voting device and discard the sleeve or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. If a central count system is used, the voter shall insert the ballot in the ballot box and discard the sleeve or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. The voter shall leave the polling place promptly.

A voter may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the voter declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the voter's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the voter.
