BADER HOLDS TAKE-AWAY BBQ!

Bader Philanthropies, Inc. recently held a "Take-Away BBQ" outside its offices, located at 3300 N. Dr. Martin Luther King Drive.

Because of the COVID-19 pandemic- and despite the rain-central city residents had a chance to pick-up some delicious bar-b-que with all the fixins to enjoy at home, while being serenaded by a jazz band.

Bader Philanthropies Dan Bader (second photo at right with Martinez Milton) was on hand to greet motorists who were given there food while waitiing in their cars.

Digital Safety Net Helps Wisconsin Small Businesses Survive During COVID-19

Businesses That Embrace Digital Expect 4X Better Revenue Than the Digitally Skeptical

Washington, D.C.—The Connected Commerce Council (3C) today released a report detailing the existence and importance of the small business "Digital Safety Net" to businesses in all 50 states.

The report confirms that small businesses using more digital tools, technologies, and online marketplaces are doing better during the COVID-19 pandemic. Those who embrace digital tools early and integrate them more are doing even better.

3C defines the Digital Safety Net as the free and low-cost small business services that include communications and workflow tools, digital marketing and advertising, websites and social media, back-office tools, and e-commerce and online payment tools.

Digitally Driven shows that nationally small businesses that embraced digital tools the earliest –

“Digital Drivers” – expect 4x better revenue for 2020 compared to “Digital Maintainers,” those who are generally skeptical of digital tools’ value and typically use only a few basic tools such as email and perhaps a website. In Wisconsin, 38% of small businesses are digital drivers compared to 35% nationally with a predicted 14.75% in revenue reduction compared to an expected 16% reduction in revenue nationally.

“In times like these, when in-person commerce is limited, if not impossible, and working from home is the norm, digital tools literally are a safety net preventing deeper small business calamity,” said 3C President Jake Ward. “The Digital Safety Net is real. However, the net could – and must – be bigger, more robust, and more inclusive. Small businesses must invest time in selecting the right digital tools for their business; technology companies must help small businesses access the right tools, and policymakers must invest more money in public-private partnerships that create and support small business resource networks.”

Other key findings in the report include:
• In addition to the 38% that were digital drivers:
o 30% of Wisconsin small businesses are “Digital Adopters.” They recognize the value of digital tools and are using some, but are not fully committed to digital, compared to 33% nationally.

o 27% of Wisconsin small businesses are “Digital Maintainers.” They are generally skeptical of digital tools’ value or are tech-nervous, and typically only use a few basic tools such as email and perhaps a website, compared to 33% nationally.
• Comparing the 50 states, those with a higher incidence of Digital Drivers show stronger small businesses resiliency than those states with more Adopters and Maintainers.

o The states with the most Drivers and best-expected revenue are:

- Nevada (63% Drivers, 5.26% revenue growth)
- Alabama (51% Drivers, 6.61% revenue reduction)
- Arizona (49% Drivers, 9.75% revenue reduction)
- Georgia (40% Drivers, 10.75% revenue reduction)
- Colorado (47% Drivers, 12.45% revenue reduction).

• 75% of Wisconsin small businesses increased their use of digital tools during the pandemic, compared to 72% nationally.

• Pre-COVID-19, 73% of Wisconsin small businesses found digital tools either “essential” or “important” to their business, compared to 68% nationally.

• Wisconsin small businesses cited three key challenges to adopting and expanding their use of digital tools:

- o 31% cite being unsure about return on investment, 49% cite cost, and 47% cite information and skills gaps.

The report also recommends that small businesses maximize their digital tool use and become better prepared for the next crisis, and provides a playbook for tech platforms, governments, and NGOs to support small businesses today and into the future.

For small businesses, it is critical to identify their goals, gaps, and precise needs to ensure they are investing in the right digital tools - not the most popular or least expensive options.

For technology companies, helping small businesses discover which digital tools they need and providing confidence-building skills training and user-friendly support materials will help with the knowledge gap that prevents many companies from taking the digital plunge. And for policymakers, the need is to increase funding of small business resources and create public-private partnerships to address access and education barriers that small businesses experience during tough economic times.

Digitally Driven, commissioned by 3C in conjunction with Google and Greenberg, is based on findings from a nationwide survey of 7,021 small businesses that were still in business, including a representative sample from every state in the country. Data are weighted by gender, ethnicity, region, business size, and vertical, to ensure an accurate national representation. The survey was fielded online and by phone between May 28 and July 3, 2020.

SOULS TO THE POLIS!
Army of Ministers Lead House-to-House Canvass on Milwaukee's North Side

Central City religious leaders from diverse denominations mobilized voters for Nov.6

More than 40 Ministers from City of Milwaukee churches convened at Canaan Missionary Baptist Church -- 2975 North 11th Street -- to hold a press conference before they launched a massive canvass door-to-door effort.

Ministers and members of their congregations knocked on every door in an 80 square block area urging people to vote on November 6 and leaving information on where and when they can vote.

According to Rev. Greg Lewis of St. Gabriel's Church of God in Christ, "Our people must use their voices as a megaphone to call for jobs, health care, police accountability, safe streets and quality schools."

"Our people must use their voices as a megaphone to call for jobs, health care, police accountability, safe streets and quality schools. Our religious community will also rebuild hope that voting makes a difference in who makes decisions that can help or hurt us." --Rev. Greg Lewis (pictured above), Assistant Pastor at St. Gabriel's Church of God in Christ

"In 2018, we are going to show political leaders that our voting block matters and we better be a part only in the future."

The canvass went south from Chambers Street to North Avenue.

Souls to the Polis is a network of Churches building a groundswell of voters in 2018.
