After mass shooting at Milwaukee funeral home and the rising gun violence in city, Health Department's OFFICE OF ## VIOLENCE PREVENTION calls for increased support and action in addressing gun violence!

"Our hearts go out to the family members and friends impacted by the mass shooting outside of Serenity Funeral Home on Wednesday.

No family in our community should have to suffer the grief and pain of gun violence—especially while mourning the loss of a loved one.

Over 15 people have been shot in Milwaukee over the last 24 hours. Since February of this year we have seen a 100% increase in homicides. In recent years, we have seen increasing levels of gun violence in the fall months.

We cannot rely on cold weather to slow this deadly epidemic.

In 2020 our 414 LIFE team has seen a 54% increase in referrals of gun shot victims to the program though our partnership with Froedtert Hospital.

The team has conducted over 53 high-risk mediations this year which, could have resulted in a shooting or homicide.

This level of gun violence requires all of us to do more to de-escalate tensions and resolve conflicts and disagreements without resorting to gun violence.

In 2015, Milwaukee saw a 70% increase in homicides. Since that time, we expanded our efforts to address violence as a public health issue and increased investments in community based solutions identified in the Blueprint for Peace.

The uptick in violence in 2020 comes after a steady 4-year decline in non-fatal shootings and homicides from 2016-2019. Increased access to firearms paired with the stress, tension, and despair caused by Covid 19 is having an impact on violence in cities across the country.

This year we have seen a sharp increase in suicides and mass shooting incidents that began with the Molson Coors shooting.

We must treat every single shooting as a state of emergency and act with the urgency it deserves.

Measures such as Universal Background Checks and Emergency Risk Protection Orders can have a profound effect on reducing suicides and domestic violence related shootings and homicides.

In addition, we call on state leaders to support measures to establish a statewide

Milwaukee Business Restart Program 2.0 Now Underway

The City of Milwaukee has launched a second round of the Milwaukee Business Restart Program -- using federal relief funds to assist established city businesses as they move to recover from setbacks related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The program will have up to $10 million available to businesses as they strive to adapt and operate during difficult times, Alderman Khalif J. Rainey said.

"It's well documented how small businesses have been hit extremely hard by the COVID-19 pandemic," Alderman Rainey said. "

The Restart program will help businesses survive as we continue to do what we can to reduce the spread of the virus and to keep Milwaukee residents safe."

New details of the program are posted on the www.city.milwaukee.gov/restart website. Applications are being accepted until October 8, 2020.

Established City of Milwaukee businesses with 20 or fewer Full Time Equivalent employees and annual revenue of more than $0 and less than $2 million will be eligible to participate.

MKE Business Restart 2.0

Businesses that previously received Restart grants are invited to apply again, but no business can receive a combined total of more than $25,000.

In addition to grants for personal protective equipment, restocking perishable inventory, and physical improvements to reduce COVID-19 spread, grantees can use money from this round of Restart for some rent and utility payments and winterizing outdoor spaces.

In this round of the Restart program, several new categories of businesses can apply including home-based businesses, food trucks, licensed day cares and state licensed group homes.

City government is working collaboratively with the Milwaukee Economic Development Corp. on Restart 2.0. Additionally, the City has engaged the Latino Entrepreneurial Network, the Milwaukee Urban League, and the Wisconsin Women's Business Initiative Corporation to assist small businesses in preparing for the online application. The partnership aims to make the online application more accessible to businesses that have technological needs.

Applicants will also be able to fill out their applications at the sites during the application period. See the www.city.milwaukee.gov/restart website for contact information and hours the organizations will be available.

SHOW YOUR APPRECIATION FOR TEACHERS AND SUPPORT STAFF WITH RANDOM ACTS OF ICE CREAM

Midwest ice cream company sending hundreds of boxes of ice cream as a sign of gratitude

School looks a little different this year, and to show gratitude for the educators and support staff who are teaching our nation's youth while navigating these new challenges, Midwest-made Hudsonville Ice Cream is seeking nominations for its Random Acts of Ice Cream program.

Selected nominees will receive a box full of ice cream pints delivered directly to their doorstep.

Nominations for Random Acts of Ice Cream can be submitted at www.hudsonvilleicecream.com/random-acts, and Hudsonville plans to ship boxes out to a number of selected recipients each week.

Nominators can share why the teacher or other education professional (including cafeteria workers, librarians, bus drivers and more) should receive a special ice cream delivery during this unusual year.

Then, Hudsonville Ice Cream will send a box of their classic pint flavors to selected nominees, no purchase required.

"The intent of our Random Acts of Ice Cream program is to show gratitude and bring joy to someone's day, and with the new school year starting we wanted to acknowledge the dedication of teachers and other education staff," said Rachel Messingschlager of Hudsonville Ice Cream.

"We all have teachers and educational role models to thank for shaping our lives, and this year educators are going above and beyond to ensure our children can learn and grow, whether it's virtually or in the classroom.

Sending a box of ice cream is something small we can do to help make their days a little sweeter while they are doing so much to inspire the next generation."

Random Acts of Ice Cream returned earlier this year to recognize health-care heroes and other front-line workers.

To date, Hudsonville has shipped hundreds of boxes to more than 20 states.

The family-owned company chose to recognize teachers and support staff aligned with the start of the school year and will continue the program through 2020.

Hudsonville Ice Cream makes more than 50 flavors, with both traditional ice cream and dairy-free options available in scoop shops and grocery stores in more than a dozen states.

Hudsonville Ice Cream is made with the highest-quality milk and cream locally sourced from neighboring dairy farmers, some within 10 miles of the creamery's headquarters.

Though the creamery boasts an evolving flavor list, Hudsonville Ice Cream continues to utilize the same base recipe from more than 90 years ago.

To learn more about Hudsonville Ice Cream and find your nearest grocery store, visit www.hudsonvilleicecream.com.

Hudsonville Creamery & Ice Cream Company has been making moments sweeter with delicious ice cream for more than 90 years.

Serving more than a dozen states, this family-owned and operated company has revolutionized how ice cream is made by building the most progressive ice cream manufacturing facility in the country to produce the creamiest, best tasting ice cream meant for any occasion.

Hudsonville Ice Cream combines time-tested recipes with the freshest ingredients, including dairy from local farms, to make favorite flavors people know and love, while creating seasonal Limited Editions and unique small batch flavors with local partners. # Advocate Aurora Health Joins 38 Health Systems in Declaring Racism a Public Health Crisis

The declaration, published by the national Healthcare Anchor Network, follows a similar public statement in June by Chicago-area health care organizations.

Advocate Aurora Health is proud to publicly reiterate our commitment to dismantling structural racism and reversing its negative effects on the health and wellbeing of our communities.

As a member of the Healthcare Anchor Network, a national collaboration of leading health care systems, we join 38 other health institutions across 45 states and Washington, D.C. in formally recognizing racism as a public health crisis. This reflects a national amplification of a similar statement and call to action that we issued in June alongside three dozen of our Chicago-area health system peers.

In doing so, we acknowledge the unconscionable toll racism has exacted on communities of color, from increased joblessness and higher rates of preventable disease to lower life expectancy, and we commit to taking specific actions to ameliorate this injustice.

We will continue to:

- hire and develop clinicians and team members who reflect and effectively treat the unique needs of each population we serve;
- hire people of color and other diverse backgrounds for leadership positions;
- lower turnover rates for people of color;
- increase investment in local certified minority- and women-owned businesses;
- and combat health disparities in the communities we serve.

“As the largest health care provider in Wisconsin, we must do better,” said Cristy Garcia-Thomas, Advocate Aurora Health’s chief external affairs officer. “By relying on our core values of excellence compassion and respect, we pledge to build more just and inclusive communities in which everyone has the opportunity to live well.”

About Advocate Aurora Safe Care Promise

Health and safety is our highest priority. The Advocate Aurora Safe Care Promise provides additional measures to protect patients and our team members. In person or online, we are here to ensure safe, comfortable and convenient care, and have taken additional measures to protect patients and their families including:

- Masking – Ensuring anyone who enters our locations is wearing a mask. If they don’t have one, we’ll gladly provide it.
- Screening – Taking the temperature and asking questions about symptoms and exposure to everyone who enters our locations.
- Social distancing – Rearranging our waiting areas and staggering appointment times to reduce traffic and create safe spaces.
- Virtual check-in – Facilitating check-ins with digital devices for seamless, low-contact arrivals.
- Enhanced Cleaning – Adding additional cleaning precautions in all areas and added handwashing/sanitizer stations.

We strongly encourage people with information about a shooting or homicide to contact Milwaukee Crime Stoppers anonymously at 414-224-TIPS. A financial reward is offered for credible information leading to an arrest.
