“LET THE HOLIDAY SEASON BEGIN!”

Milwaukee Urban League and Voice of the Fatherless Child start the season right with annual efforts to bring cheer in the time of COVID

Even with the Coronavirus, Voice of the Fatherless Child celebrated it's 10th year of the 'Single Parent Christmas Project.' With the help of sponsors Home Depot (Northshore Location), Hupy & Abraham, Church Women United, Singer and Worldwide DG, Spoken Word Poet Keziah Love, and many more, Voice of the Fatherless Child was able to support five families this year. Normally the organization supports 10 families per year, but for the safety of the families of those participating in the charity event, the number of families was reduced. Pictured above is one of the five families that received coats and clothes, HD Nook tablets, Star Wars drones, Easy Bake Kitchen Set and other toys along with Christmas trees, lights and decorations. —Photos by Martinez Milton

The Milwaukee Urban League and Target Department Stores warmed up the hearts of children and their families with holiday gifts that included turkey, coats, hats and gloves for all 173 students at Auer Avenue Elementary School the week before Thanksgiving Day. Distribution was done with the help of MUL staff, and its president and CEO, Dr. Eve M. Hall; Target volunteers headed by Corneisha Williams, Assets Protection Director; and Auer Avenue Elementary School, Principal, Dr. Zanetta Walker and staff at the school. —Photos by Pat Robinson

COPING WITH COVID-19

PORCH PIRATES IN THE AGE OF COVID-19

Since March, Millions of Americans Have Had Packages Stolen From Their Doorstep

—PLUS: 47% of Americans Doing All or Most of Their 2020 Holiday Shopping Online—

“This holiday season, online shoppers need to have a safe and secure delivery plan.”

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Have you created your safe delivery plan yet? According to insuranceQuotes.com's newly released 2020 Porch Pirates in the Age of COVID-19 Report, 7% of Americans—which translates to over 17 million people—have had a delivered package stolen from their porch or doorstep since March, when the COVID-19 pandemic began to make an impact. Furthermore, 47% of Americans say that all or most of their holiday shopping this year will be done via online delivery.

“As online shopping and delivery increases, so does the risk of porch pirates—which is not only being compounded by a once-in-a-100-years pandemic spurring online ordering, but also now, holiday shopping. This holiday season, online shoppers need to have a safe and secure delivery plan,” said Michael Giusti, analyst at insuranceQuotes.com and author of the report.

RESTORATION RALLY TO LIFT MIND, BODY AND SPIRIT

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Invites Milwaukee Community to Free Virtual Rally

To say the least, 2020 has been difficult for everyone. With winter approaching, the possibility of seasonal depression is high amongst many and as COVID-19 cases continue to climb, the Milwaukee Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. recognizes the importance of maintaining a healthy mind, body, and spirit.

That's why the Sorority will host its online Restoration Rally on Saturday, December 19 from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. The virtual event is free and open to the community.

Guests can register at dstmilwaukee.org/events.

Physical and mental health is one of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority's programmatic thrusts. For the Restoration Rally, the Sorority collaborates with local mental health professionals who will serve as guest facilitators.

The event will give Milwaukee residents the chance to vent, reflect, and restore their well-being.

The Restoration Rally consists of breakout rooms that will focus on grief, mental health for women and men, spirituality, and a special session for children and teenagers.

The virtual event promises a safe and supportive afternoon to restore ones' overall wellness during these trying times.

"This is our job and if we need this, then we know our community needs it," says Chapter President Anita Sparks. "People have been affected this year.

Whether it was by the virus or the election process—we want an opportunity for people to release and be filled up with new tools to heal."

PORCH PIRATES IN THE AGE OF COVID-19

Among the study's additional findings:

- 18% of Americans say they have had a delivered package stolen from their porch or doorstep in their lifetime.
- 14% say that all or most of their grocery shopping is done via online delivery.
- 36% say that since March, they have shifted away from in-person purchasing in favor of online purchasing.

"Fortunately for consumers, there are effective ways to protect themselves and their packages from porch pirates—from order tracking to installing a security system to arranging for a pickup location. There are even some cities volunteering their local police departments as a package pickup point," added Giusti. "In the short term, the porch pirates problem is likely to get worse before it gets better. But it will get better."

This year's report is a follow-up to insuranceQuote.com's porch pirate reports from 2019, 2018 and 2017.

The full 2020 Porch Pirates in the Age of COVID-19 Report—which includes in-depth data and analysis on porch pirates and online delivery trends, along with tips for consumers to protect their packages, as well as what steps to take after falling victim to package theft—is available at <https://www.insurancequotes.com/porch-pirates-package-theft-statistics>

Consortium Issues Statement Calling for the Decriminalization of Tobacco

Local organization has joined a broad coalition calling for reform of tobacco laws and regulations.

Jump at the Sun, a Black woman-owned agency working to address health disparities and advance health equity, supports a national demand for decriminalizing commercial tobacco and addressing systemic racism in the enforcement of commercial tobacco and control.

Jump at the Sun recently joined more than 40 other organizations, including the American Lung Association, Truth Initiative, the American Heart Association, the American Public Health Association, the Wisconsin Public Health Association and the Center for Black Health and Equity, in issuing a joint statement outlining principles to help local and state health departments, decisionmakers, advocates, and other stakeholders, advance equitable enforcement practices related to the purchase, possession, sale, and distribution of all tobacco products.

Among the groups suggestions:

- Vest enforcement authority for commercial tobacco control laws in public health or other non-police officials.
  - Ensure revenues from commercial tobacco control laws, including tobacco taxes, are used to support public health objectives and advance health equity.
  - Eliminate youth purchase, use, and possession penalties.
  - Eliminate the use of physical force against people suspected or guilty of violating commercial tobacco control laws.
  - Prohibit enforcement officials from initiating contact with an individual based on the individual's possession of a tobacco product.
  - Ensure that if commercial tobacco control laws are enforced against individuals, as opposed to businesses, they should not include punitive measures such as criminal penalties, fines, or mandatory community service.
- "These principles can also help address tobacco addiction and reduce tobacco-related harms while maintaining and improving the efficacy of enforcement of commercial tobacco laws and policies,” read part of the group’s statement.

Lorraine Lathen, founder and owner of Jump at the Sun recently co-authored with Dr. Danielle McCarthy of UW-Center for Tobacco Research and Intervention, an op-ed titled, “Tobacco presents a dual-risk to Black Lives,” which discussed the threat of criminalizing tobacco.

Tobacco kills 45,000 African Americans a year.

The most commonly used tobacco product among African Students for a Democratic Society at UW-Milwaukee to deliver demands to get cops off campus and redirect resources to programs and services that support social well-being and community health.

Americans, heart disease, diabetes and cancer, according to the CDC.

In Wisconsin, the smoking rate for African-Americans is 26%, a much higher rate than the state’s general adult population (16%). Menthol, a product used by 9 of 10 African-American adult smokers in Wisconsin, is a peppermint flavored anesthetic tobacco companies added to reduce the harshness of cigarettes and other tobacco products. The Menthol additive makes it easier to start and harder to quit. Although African Americans start smoking at a later age and smoke less, they are more likely to die from tobacco use, according to the CDC.

Jump at the Sun has led local efforts to increase awareness about the impact of menthol and to address tobacco as a social justice and health equity issue.

“We are humbled to have the opportunity to work tirelessly with our community stakeholders to help pave the way for Wisconsin to be a state where everyone lives in dignity and has an equal opportunity to achieve optimal health,” Lathen said. “If adopted, the recommendations outlined in the statement could have far reaching impacts for Black residents in Wisconsin and across the nation.”

PEOPLE, ACHIEVEMENTS, PERSONAL COMMITMENTS THAT HAVE HELPED TO SHAPE THE BLACK COMMUNITY OF MILWAUKEE!

The Milwaukee Community Journal, now celebrating 44 years, has written about a lot of people. As is true with every person, each is a story within themselves, and we’ve tried to record and tell their stories truthfully with the honor their lives deserve. Their stories are legacy stories.

Many of the people in “Milwaukee Black Legacy Families” made major contributions to the community, but they pre-dated Google and the web, so their contributions are frozen in memories that now flicker and newspaper morgues where papers yellow from lack of adequate preservation. These contributors built, stacked accomplishment on top of accomplishments, designed strategies to increase their educational, financial, legal, business and electoral power. And their strengths now echo in many of our present leaders. Who are they? What did they do? How do those achievements create the pathway for what we have just experienced?

“Milwaukee Black Legacy Families-2020” shares a lot of the history, the players, their objectives and their successes. Are you in the book? Is a family member there? You should be....so share . We building 2021 now! Share your story and Mom’s Dad’s legacy. email: legacy@milwaukeecommunityjournal.com
