Mary Wilson, co-founding member of the legendary Motown group, The Supremes, died Monday at her home in Henderson, Nevada. She was 76. According to a statement by her longtime friend and publicist, Jay Schwartz, to The Root website, Wilson died suddenly. No cause of death has been given. Dubbed "the sexy one" of the group, Wilson was the longest-running member of the group she made famous alongside Diana Ross and Florence Ballard (and later, Cindy Birdsong). The Supremes were Motown's most successful act of the 1960s, scoring 12 number one singles, at one time five in a row. They remain the number one female recording group of all time.

Fulton County District Attorney Fani Willis has opened a criminal investigation into a phone call former president Donald Trump made to Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger in an alleged attempt to change the results of the 2020 presidential election. Willis has sent letters to multiple state officials, including Raffensperger, to preserve all documents that are relevant to "an investigation into attempts to influence the administration of the 2020 Georgia General Election," according to a New York Times report. Trump called Raffensperger, asking him to find the votes needed for him to be declared winner of the southern state. Trump claimed he didn't lose Georgia, that he won by hundreds of thousands of votes.

The wife of U.S. Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas recently apologized to her husband's clerks for supporting the rally that opposed the certification of the Electoral College votes. "I owe you all an apology," Virginia Thomas wrote in an email to the clerks. "I have likely imposed on you my lifetime passions. "...sometimes the smallest matters can divide loved ones for too long," she wrote in the email that was obtained by The Washington Post. Council votes to rename Old World Third Street after civil rights icon Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

A resolution, sponsored by Ald. Milele Coggs, to change the name of Old World Third Street to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Drive was unanimously passed recently by the Milwaukee Common Council.

The change applies to the stretch of downtown road from west McKinley Avenue to west Wisconsin Avenue. Headed north from there, the section of road from west McKinley Avenue to West Capitol Drive has been known as Dr. Martin Luther King Drive since 1984.

"We hope this legislation serves as inspiration, hope, healing and encouragement for the quest for justice and racial equity," read a joint Council statement. "The geographical division between today's Old World Third Street and King Drive reflects the segregation and division that has been pervasive in this city.

"We see the passage of this legislation as demonstration of our willingness to not be silent in the fight to usher in the necessary change for a better Milwaukee and a better tomorrow."

Mayor Tom Barrett also expressed his support for the renaming, saying the display of King's name on one of the city's most prominent streets allows the city to honor his legacy in pursuit of a more just future.

Fire department's administration building to be renamed after state's first Black architect

The building housing the Milwaukee Fire Department administration headquarters will be renamed after the architect who designed it, Alonzo Robinson, Milwaukee's first African American architect.

By a unanimous vote, the Common Council voted recently to rename the building, located at 711 W. Wells Street, after Robinson, who was a city of Milwaukee architect for a time early in his career.

"The legacy and accomplishments of Alonzo Robinson are worthy of recognition and praise," said Common Council President Cavalier Johnson, the lead sponsor for the renaming legislation.

"As the first African American registered architect in Milwaukee and Wisconsin, Mr. Robinson is a true inspiration and trailblazer in his field, someone who overcame adversity to open doors for future architects and engineers of color in the city and state," said Johnson in a press statement.

"He will now be honored appropriately in the city with his name emblazoned on an important building that he designed."

Community vaccine program targets vulnerable populations in MKE

Citizens in vulnerable and underserved communities in the city of Milwaukee are encouraged to obtain free COVID-19 vaccinations being provided by the Findley Foundation.

The drive-thru vaccination program is open to Wisconsin residents who are health care workers, firefighters or police officers or are at least 65 years of age.

The program is targeting people who might not have access to regular primary care.

The vaccinations are provided at 530 S. 11th St., Milwaukee, by the Findley Foundation, which operates a medical clinic that specializes in family medicine.

The vaccines are provided by the federal government's American Rescue Plan of 2021. The clinic has the capabilities to provide vaccines for 200 to 500 people per week.

The vaccinations are provided Monday through Thursday, 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; and Fridays 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

To make an appointment, visit findleyfoundation.org/clientsecure

The Findley Foundation's mission is to assist individuals in becoming healthy, healed and whole by providing vocational training and education, case management, health and behavioral health services.

For additional information about the organization, visit www.findleyfoundation.org or call Stephanie "Deena" Findley at 414-416-0118.

COVID-19 VACCINE: AN INTERNATIONAL TRIUMPH

By Roland A. Pattillo, MD, FACOG (retired)

The spread of viruses and bacteria is something we experience throughout our lives.

From the common cold to more serious health issues like HIV-AIDS and Ebola, we fear mass transmission. In 2020, this fear became very real with COVID-19. But today, there is hope.

Others of my era probably remember the devastation caused by polio. Now there are almost no cases.

This came about because of a powerful vaccine and global immunization efforts. Vaccines are not new to us.

However, some still hesitate to be vaccinated because of past abuses in medical research. But these abuses could not happen today – there are laws to protect us.

We learned recently that several COVID-19 vaccines have been approved. Vaccination efforts are underway.

This happened much faster than usual, thanks to the efforts of scientists around the world. And one Ms. Henrietta Lacks.

Before my involvement, the life story of Henrietta Lacks was hidden for many years. Today, the story of the Lacks family is well known.

In 1951, doctors took cancer cells from Lacks, a Black woman, without her knowledge or consent. Scientists used these cells to create trillions of new cells for use in medical research – HeLa cells.

Scientific discoveries using HeLa cells have improved the health, quality of life, and longevity for millions of people.

They have become the "gold stan-

Robinson designed many buildings in downtown Milwaukee including central-city churches, the former YMCA (now a Marquette University facility) at North 10th and West Wisconsin Avenues, the Doane Park shelter house, the former Vel Phillips YWCA (now a church at 3940 N. 21st St.) and a new sixth-floor courtroom in the Milwaukee County Courthouse.

A native of North Carolina, Robinson grew up in Delaware, served in World War II and graduated with a degree in architecture from Howard University in Washington, D.C.

He moved to Milwaukee in the early 1950s and was hired by the city of Milwaukee, and later worked for Milwaukee County. He was also a founding board member of Northcott Neighborhood House.

PEOPLE, ACHIEVEMENTS, PERSONAL COMMITMENTS

THAT HAVE HELPED TO SHAPE THE BLACK COMMUNITY OF MILWAUKEE!

The Milwaukee Community Journal, now celebrating 44 years, has written about a lot of people. As is true with every person, each is a story within themselves, and we've tried to record and tell their stories truthfully with the honor their lives deserve. Their stories are legacy stories.

Many of the people in "Milwaukee Black Legacy Families" made major contributions to the community, but they pre-dated Google and the web, so their contributions are frozen in memories that now flicker and newspaper morgues where papers yellow from lack of adequate preservation. These contributors built, stacked accomplishment on top of accomplishments, designed strategies to increase their educational, financial, legal, business and electoral power. And their strengths now echo in many of our present leaders. Who are they? What did they do? How do those achievements create the pathway for what we have just experienced?

"Milwaukee Black Legacy Families-2020" shares a lot of the history, the players, their objectives and their successes. Are you in the book? Is a family member there? You should be....so share. We building 2021 now! Share your story and Mom's Dad's legacy. email: legacy@milwaukeecommunityjournal.com

"It's an important message to share with residents and visitors alike as they enjoy the heart of downtown Milwaukee."

In 1984, the renaming of what was then known as 3rd Street was met with controversy. "A group of downtown business owners from West State Street to West Juneau Avenue opposed the change, claiming that renaming the street in recognition of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. could harm the street's status as a tourist attraction," explains the ordinance. In the end, the 1984-era council voted 13-3 to rename the downtown section of the street Old World Third Street, and rename the more northern section in honor of Dr. King.

"Every time one drives southbound on King Drive, as it abruptly turns into Old World Third Street, they may be reminded of the 1984 political fight over the street renaming, the tremendous effort to limit the King street naming from entering downtown Milwaukee and the vestiges of systemic racism and segregation that have been pervasive in this city," Coggs said in an earlier statement, run in the January 27, 2021 edition of the Community Journal.

"Over this past year we have seen people take to the streets in cities across the country in a renewed fight for justice and seen a rebirth in efforts toward racial equity and inclusion," she continued. "In furtherance of the same positive and transformational spirit and direction of the nation we are seeking to correctly continue a rightful path."

The change won't be immediate, however. The city will work with businesses on Third Street to help with the implementation of the name change. Also, the city will work to create an honorary street name for the Old World Third Street Historic District. A, according to Urban Milwaukee, "such a designation, often applied to a one-block stretch in honor of an individual, would place a brown street sign above the official green one."

An earlier letter from Westown Association's executive director Stacie Callies offered "unequivocal support," but asked for time to implement the change—especially for Third Street-branded businesses like Third Street Market Hall, Third Street Tavern, Who's On Third, and Brick 3 Pizza.

"Alderwoman Coggs generously took the time to meet with the leaders of the Old World Third Street Association and Westown this week after which time she recognized and amended the resolution to include language giving the Common Council and City Departments' commitment to work with residents/businesses owners in the Third Street area on a workable timeline to implement the name change as well as possibly deploying City resources to facilitate the transition process," Callies' letter read.

The letter also asked for the creation of an honorary street name. Source for article: Milwaukee Record

Rep. LaKeshia Myers reintroduces CROWN Act aimed at eliminating hair discrimination in Wisconsin

MADISON — Representative LaKeshia Myers (D-Milwaukee) reintroduced legislation today that will alleviate hair discrimination in the state of Wisconsin.

The bill, known as The CROWN (Creating a Respectful and Open Workplace for Natural Hair) Act, would update Wisconsin state statutes to include protections for individuals who wear natural hairstyles predominantly worn by African

Rep. Myers

Americans such as afros, braids, locs, and twists.

The bipartisan piece of legislation received a hearing last session in the Assembly Committee on Constitution & Ethics, but was not presented to the entire legislature for a vote.

Myers said, "I remain steadfast in my commitment to see this legislation through until it is signed into law. The necessity for all people to be affirmed and accepted for who they are is paramount."

As Black people, our natural hair textures must not be weaponized and used as a tool of rejection when seeking or maintaining employment.

As we continue to experience shifts in our demography, it is our duty to erase policies steeped in discrimination and embrace equity."

While Title VII of the Civil Rights Act prohibits employers from discriminating against employees on the basis of sex, race, and color, there is no legal precedent in state or federal statute to protect individuals against discrimination based on natural hair texture and styles.

By specifying in statute that the protected class of race also includes traits historically associated with racial identification, such as hair texture and protective hairstyles, this bill ensures defense against grooming policies that often affect people of color.

Presently, federal law protects one's choice to wear an afro. Representative Myers said, "This protection was based on a federal discrimination lawsuit in 1976, afros are not the only natural hairstyles worn."

It is important that our state statutes reflect the societal changes that have occurred in the last forty-four years. Updating our state statutes to end discrimination based on hair textures and protective styles will help to foster healthier, more productive, and more diverse workplace environments.

It is my hope that my colleagues in both chambers will support this legislation and do what is necessary to advance equity and inclusion for all Wisconsinites."

PERSPECTIVES

The Great Historian and the Great Emancipator

Am I the only one who finds it paradoxical that Black History Month was created to coincide with the birth month of an American bigot?

True enough, African American scholar and educator Carter G. Woodson established Negro History Week in February to pay tribute to America's first national civil rights leader, Frederick Douglass.

But the shortest month in the year was likewise chosen to honor President Abraham Lincoln, who many historians now acknowledge was the original template for 'Donald Trump.'

While most of us were duped into believing Lincoln was the 'great emancipator,' he was, in fact, a covert 19th-century White Supremacist; a bigot (which in my dictionary is a racist with power).

Like most of us, I assume Woodson's veneration of Lincoln was a result of the false narrative provided us in government schools and 'History.'

But that disingenuous assumption of truth is all the more enigmatic, given that Woodson was the author of the premiere book on educational apartheid and propagandized History, 'The Miseducation of the Negro.'

The founder of the Association for the Study of African American History, Woodson was no doubt unaware of several speeches and private observations by Lincoln in which he posited that Africans were an inferior 'race,' an uncivilized and uncultured people ordained by his God to subservient status--albeit unshackled by the chains of institutional bondage.

Don't misunderstand my criticism. I'm not reproving or even disparaging Woodson.

Up until my recently, we were prey of the 'Great Socialization Scheme.' We blindly accepted false History as fact, allowing those with a vested interest in our ignorance and cultural impotence to indoctrinate and control us.

In fact, many (maybe most) continue to believe white ice gets colder and Yeshua had blond hair with blue eyes.

Our children are taught and tested on false narratives and thus believe Native Americans were the bad guys, Columbus 'discovered' America, and the only contribution our ancestors made to world culture was tap dancing.

Thus, even with his disingenuous veneration of Lincoln, Woodson is worthy of the highest praise for it is because of his persistence and dedication to create what was initially called Negro History Week that we now avail ourselves of the necessity to accentuate our vast contributions to America and to analyze the circumstances that influenced our sojourn.

Then again, and to his credit, Lincoln was indeed the catalyst for the 13th Amendment.

For that action alone, he deserves his place in both Black History.

But it would also be myopic and mendacious to assume he did so out of his Christian proselytization, as a moral imperative or even to correct the blatant hypocrisy of the U.S. Constitution.

The truth of the matter is a year before the wartime president issued his proclamation, he rescinded a similar decree issued by one of his generals, John Fremont.

Lincoln not only quashed that dictate, but removed Fremont from his command for circumventing his efforts to appease the Confederacy--at the expense of African captives.

Lincoln repeatedly explained the civil war wasn't about abolishing slavery but preserving the union.

If that goal could be accomplished without freeing slaves, he would have turned his back on our ancestor's suffering--torture, rape, and murder. Indeed, despite what most of us were led to believe, Abraham Lincoln was as far removed philosophically from abolitionist John Brown as Barack Obama was from Trump or Andrew Johnson.

A year after annulling Fremont's proclamation, and with the Civil War stagnated, Lincoln threatened the Confederacy with a new executive order if Confederate President Jefferson Davis refused to cease hostilities and agree to reconciliation.

Eighteen months into the bloodiest conflict in American history, Lincoln was well aware that the Confederacy wouldn't abandon its cause.

Moreover, a key component of the Confederacy's war effort was attributable to their use of Black slaves to continue 'toting the barge and lifting those bales.'

Slavery was essential to the South's war effort because they maintained the economy (selling crops to England and other White nations that supposedly remained neutral) and served as construction crews for necessary military strategic endeavors.

So, when the South refused to come to the bargaining table, Lincoln hit them with a double whammy: a new emancipation proclamation, and, following the recommendations of several of his leading generals, 'allowing' Negroes to serve in the Union Army--albeit in segregated units.

And just as the 'Colored troops' were the deciding factor in the Revolutionary War (they didn't tell Ya'll about that either), the desperate and highly motivated Negroes were the deciding factor in the Civil War.

But it should be noted that the Emancipation Proclamation only freed the slaves in the Confederacy. And was probably illegal.

Why didn't Lincoln free the millions of slaves held in the north and border states?

You should know the answer to that question before putting the moral crown of righteousness on Abe's head.

The 13th Amendment, which ended slavery (except for prison inmates), was not a result of Lincoln's Christian ethos but, instead, to fill the loophole of a proclamation that probably would not have withstood constitutional scrutiny. As I understand it, a country can only take 'contraband' from another 'nation,' in times of war, which the South wasn't.

Moreover, Lincoln hoped to remove from sight the visual source of acrimony following the 13th Amendment by sending former slaves back to Africa. He didn't live long enough to see that goal to fruition.

As for his Christian tenets?

They were as faulty as the hypocrisy inherent in the U.S. Constitution, which was supposedly based on the equality of all Americans.

Like most so-called Christians of that era, Lincoln subscribed to a Bible that justified slavery (as do most versions today), but denounced the ill-treatment of people.

And America's Satanic version of slavery was adjudicated to be the most inhumane and unchristian form in history.

Inherent within that paradigm is an irony that follows us to this day: that you can be opposed to slavery and promote equality of opportunity and still be a racist.

Or, in the case of Lincoln and many other president's past, a bigot.

It took most of my adult life to realize that many who call themselves 'progressive' and 'liberal' are also xenophobic.

Within that paradigm, Lincoln--viewed as a liberal by writers of History--was by word and deed, a racist who posited that Africans were an inferior 'race.'

Likewise, I know many liberals today who either view their ethnicity to be superior to all others or who subscribe to the assumption that Black folks cannot take care of ourselves and must be led by the hand of the ‘missionary.’ It may not have dawned on most of us yet, but the poverty industry is grounded in that dichotomy.

Just as the Christian missionaries invaded Africa with a Bible in one hand and a chain in the other, many today believe their patronizing philosophy is rooted in a Christian tenet, when in fact, it is a core belief of racists. Lincoln, however, did not suffer from that illusion. He was, in fact, a real ‘liberal’ racist, as he revealed in a campaign speech in 1858:

"While I was at the hotel today, an elderly gentleman called upon me to know whether I was really in favor of producing a perfect equality between the negroes and white people...

“I will say then that I am not, nor ever have been, in favor of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the White and Black races.

That I am not nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with White people; and I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the White and Black races which I believe will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality.

And inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together, there must be superior and inferior, and I as much as any other man favors having the superior position assigned to the white race.

“I say upon this occasion I do not perceive that because the White man is to have the superior position, the Negro should be denied everything. I do not understand that because I do not want a Negro woman for a slave, I must necessarily want her for a wife.

“My understanding is that I can just let her alone.

I am now in my fiftieth year, and I certainly never have had a Black woman for either a slave or a wife. So, it seems quite possible for us to get along without making either slaves or wives of Negroes.

“I will add to this that I have never seen, to my knowledge, a man, woman, or child who favored producing a perfect equality, social and political, between Negroes and White men. . . .

“I will also add to these remarks that I have never had the least apprehension that my friends or I would marry negroes if there were no law to keep them from it."

Yep, no doubt Woodson probably would have reexamined Lincoln’s title of ‘Great Emancipator’ had he known he was also a White Supremacist.

Conversely, I assume, had Woodson lived in modern times, he would have similarly viewed Donald Trump through the same prisms.

You might recall that Trump once declared he did more for Black folks than any president other than Lincoln. Even His-storians found fault with that statement.

Yet, while 45IQs stated accomplishment was a fantasy, he did share Honest Abe's underlying feelings about Africa and African Americans. And that’s a fact no historian can dispute.

SUMMONS (PUBLICATION) STATE OF WISCONSIN CIRCUIT COURT MILWAUKEE COUNTY FAMILY COURT BRANCH DIVORCE 40101 Case No. 20FA004406

In Re: The marriage of: BEVERLY J WILSON and Respondent: ROSILAN CHARLES LEWIS

THE STATE OF WISCONSIN, TO THE PERSON NAMED ABOVE AS RESPONDENT:

You are notified that the petitioner named above has filed a Petition for divorce or legal separation against you.

You must respond with a written demand for a copy of the Petition within 40 days from the day after the first day of publication.

The demand must be sent or delivered to the court at: Clerk of Court, Milwaukee County Courthouse 901 N 9th St Milwaukee WI 53233 and to BEVERLY J WILSON 3149 N 33rd Street Milwaukee WI 53216

It is recommended, but not required that you have an attorney help or represent you.

If you do not demand a copy of the Petition within 40 days, the court may grant judgment against you for the award of money or other legal action requested in the Petition, and you may lose your right to object to anything that is or may be incorrect in the Petition.

A judgment may be enforced as provided by law. A judgment awarding money may become a lien against any real estate you own now or in the future and may also be enforced by garnishment or seizure of property.

You are further notified that if the parties to this action have minor children, violation of 948.31 Wis. Stats., (Interference with custody by parent or others) is punishable by fines and/or imprisonment:

If you and the petitioner have minor children, documents setting forth the percentage standard for child support established by the department under 49.22(9), Wis. Stats., and the factors that a court may consider for modification of that standard under 767.511 (1m). Wis Stats. are available upon your request from the Clerk of Court.

You are notified of the availability of information from the Circuit Court Commissioner as set forth in 767.105 Wis.Stats.

767.105 Information from Circuit Court Commissioner.

(2) Upon the request of a party to an action affecting the family, including a revision of judgment or order under sec. 767.59 or 767.451: (a) The Circuit Court Commissioner shall, with or without charge, provide the party with written information on the following, as appropriate to the action commenced: 1. The procedure for obtaining a judgment or order in the action. 2. The major issues usually addressed in such an action. 3. Community resources and family court counseling services available to assist the parties. 4. The procedure for setting, modifying, and enforcing child support awards, or modifying and enforcing legal custody or physical placement judgments or orders. (b) The Circuit Court Commissioner shall provide a party, for inspection or purchase, with a copy of the statutory provisions in this chapter generally pertinent to the action.

ABOUT MILWAUKEE COMMUNITY JOURNAL (MCJ) WEEKEND EDITION

The Milwaukee Community Journal Weekend Edition is published weekly. Each week, MCJ Weekend focuses on different subjects, HEALTH, PERSONAL, FINANCE, FAMILY, MEN, AND WOMEN. THE WEEKEND EDITION now includes the publishing of records designated by the Milwaukee County Circuit Court for publication of legal notices, with added value in the Wednesday Edition. The Weekend Edition is a public newspaper of general circulation that complies with the laws of Wisconsin relating to publication of legal notices. MCJ Weekend Edition has published weekly over ten years, in the State of Wisconsin and Milwaukee County. We have a paid circulation of approximately 89% of our circulation, weekly. And our actual paid subscribers are over the 1000 required by State Statute.

ABOUT THE MILWAUKEE COMMUNITY JOURNAL (MCJ)

The Milwaukee Community Journal (MCJ) is a quality news organization published throughout Milwaukee and the surrounding suburbs. Established in 1976, the Milwaukee Community Journal has advanced the plight, struggles and victories of minorities in Wisconsin, with a passion for building community. The MCJ accentuates the positive, analyzes the negatives and advocates to seed success. The Milwaukee Community Journal stockholders are Patricia O’Flynn Pattillo (90%); Mikel Holt (5%); and Todd Thomas (5%) respectively, and is current in filing by the State of Wisconsin, effective October 10, 2018.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF MILWAUKEE:

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

Upon entering the polling place, a voter shall state his or her name and address, show an acceptable form of photo identification, and sign the poll book before being permitted to vote. If a voter does not have acceptable photo identification, the voter may obtain a free photo ID for voting from the Division of Motor Vehicles. If a voter is not registered to vote, a voter may register to vote at the polling place serving his or her residence, if the voter presents proof of residence in a form specified by law. Where ballots are distributed to voters, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the voter shall retire alone to a voting booth and cast his or her ballot except that a voter who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the voter's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the voter of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

The voter shall fill in the oval next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote.

When using an electronic ballot marking device (“Automark” or “ExpressVote”), to mark an optical scan ballot, the voter shall touch the screen or use the keypad to select the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall type in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote.

If the voter spoils an optical scan ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one voter. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the voter shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place.

After an official optical scan ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the security sleeve, so the marks do not show. The voter shall insert the ballot in the voting device and discard the sleeve or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. If a central count system is used, the voter shall insert the ballot in the ballot box and discard the sleeve or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. The voter shall leave the polling place promptly.

A voter may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the voter declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the voter's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the voter.

A sample of the official ballot is posted with this notice.

Wards 60, 108, 109, 110, 111, 113, 114, 116, 117, 144, 147, 148, 149, 172, 173, 174, 178, 183, 184, 188, 189, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, and 199 will have the following County Supervisor, District 10 contest on their ballot in addition to those contests shown on the sample ballot.
