NIKKI'S HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE!

Above: The family of Alonzo Robinson, Wisconsin's first Black architect, joined city and county officials (pictured above) in the renaming ceremony of the Milwaukee Fire Department's administration building. The building, located on 711 W. Wells St. will now be known as the 'Alonzo Robinson Milwaukee Fire Department Administration Building.' Robinson designed the building, which was commissioned in 1962 at a cost of $507,000—a price today equivalent to a new emergency vehicle. The building has been hailed for its timeless design and attention to detail.

At left: Milwaukee Community Journal photographer Yvonne Kemp teamed with other journalists and communications experts in serving adult beverages and chatting about the state of journalism during the recent 'Meet the Media' event, held at the Milwaukee Press Club headquarters downtown. The bartending event was part of the press club's 136 anniversary celebration. The Milwaukee Press Club is the nation's oldest existing media organization. She is seen 'chatting' with Milwaukee County Sheriff Earnell Lucas.

HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE

Shopping for the holidays can be stressful and sometimes challenging. One of the biggest challenges is getting the perfect gift for someone.

Yes, I know they love to read, but do they want you to buy them a book? When giving a gift communication is key and getting someone what they want is going to

your best choice.

Nikki Gamble

Purchasing gifts for an entire family can become expensive, so I recommend using the 3-gift rule.

With this rule you spend whatever your Christmas budget is divided by the number of children you have, for example, your budget is $400.00, and you have 3 children.

You have $133.33 to spend on each child. The key to this rule is to stick to it and stay within your budget.

If you want to be a little more creative, use the 4-gift rule. This rule gives you the ability to limit the number of gifts you buy each child to four.

With this rule the four gifts you buy will be in these four categories something they want, something they need, something to wear and something to read.

This way you will be able to give a good variety of gifts.

These rules are not just for children, but they can be used to buy gifts for anyone.

Using the 4-gift rule categories I am going to give you a few gift ideas for the whole family. Some of which I am buying for my family and friends this year.

Something they want:

- Air pods
- Cell Phones
- Gaming Systems

We Energies announces $125,000 in special charitable giving to mark company's 125 years serving Milwaukee

In honor of 125 years serving people in Milwaukee, We Energies is happy to announce $125,000 in special charitable giving to local nonprofit organizations.

This special funding is on top of the more than $10 million the We Energies Foundation and its corporate parent company, WEC Energy Group, provide in charitable giving across the state every year.

"From education and the environment, to the arts and neighborhood development, we are proud to support our communities year round through charitable giving and volunteer efforts," said Beth Straka, vice president — We Energies Foundation.

"This special gift is a small way we can extend our commitment to Milwaukee, which we have proudly served for 125 years."

The nonprofit organizations receiving grants in honor of We Energies' 125 years serving Milwaukee are:

- Big Brothers Big Sisters of Metro Milwaukee
- Milwaukee Habitat for Humanity
- House of Peace
- Manna Behavioral Services
- Skylight Music Theatre
- Teens Grow Greens
- Victory Garden Initiative

We Energies began as the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Co. in 1896, serving 12,000 square miles.

Today, the company serves more than 1.1 million electric customers and 1.1 million natural gas customers across Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Since the early 1980s, We Energies has invested hundreds of millions of dollars in communities across Wisconsin.

Funding is made possible thanks to the generosity of WEC Energy Group shareholders and does not come from customer rates.
