WISCONSIN'S LARGEST AFRICAN AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

New MLK Library/housing development among 14 housing projects receiving grants totaling $324 Million

The Milwaukee Common Council recently approved $10.7 million in City of Milwaukee Housing Trust Fund (HTF) allocations for 14 projects that will construct new homes for those in need, create and foster thousands of construction jobs, rehabilitate existing housing stock that has fallen into disrepair, and provide much needed homebuyer counseling services.

The projects will leverage an investment of more than $324 million in local construction and rehabilitation work over the next year, said Alderman Michael J. Murphy, chair of the HTF Advisory Board, which recommends the projects to be funded each year.

"Today is a special day as we have approved more than $10 million worth of funding for affordable housing projects across the entire city.

"Not only will these dollars create permanent affordable housing for our residents, but thousands of jobs will be created in the process," said Alderman Murphy.

"I want to thank my colleagues both for the initial allocation of funds to the Housing Trust Fund and supporting these 14 projects today, as well as the citizen-led review board for thoroughly and thoughtfully reviewing the applications received and making critical recommendations."

Alderman Murphy said one of the top 2023 projects would fund 93 apartments proposed by General Capital, as part of the mixed-use construction of a new MLK Library development at N. MLK Dr. and W. Locust), creating much-needed low-income apartment homes.

"This transformative project – along with the other selected projects – will help provide critical housing in Milwaukee to individuals who need it most," Alderman Murphy said.

The projects were recommended for approval by the Zoning, Neighborhoods and Development Committee during a special meeting prior to today's

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR AGAIN!....

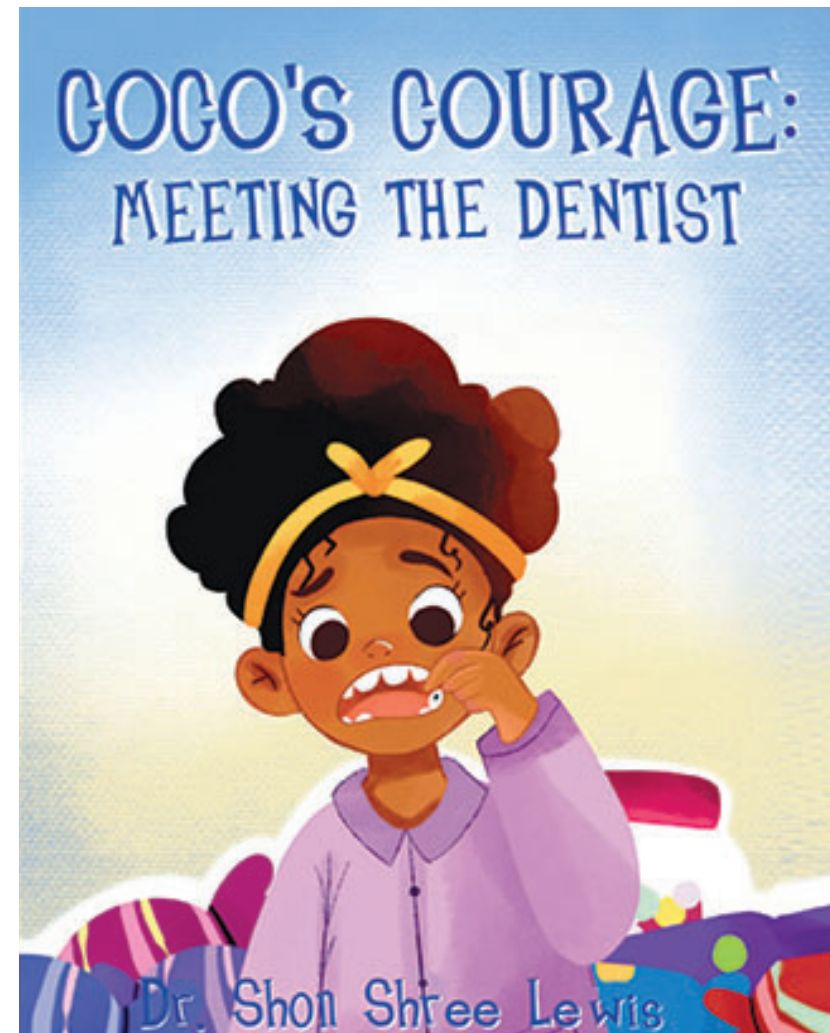

Voice of the Fatherless Child, Home Depot, and community activists join to make the holidays merry and bright for a few lucky families!

"Voice of the Fatherless Child," enters year 13 with the Single Parent Christmas Project. This year's volunteers are VOTFC's Founder Monte Mabra, America Work's employee Gail Hodges, Home Depot Community Rep A.J. & Manager Sheila, CYD's Charles Butch Walton, singer-song writer, Worldwide DJ & Brother. These individuals, organizations and businesses all joined in to bring the full Christmas experience to life. VOTFC's Monte Mabra said the project entails going into the home of families, putting up a live tree, decorating the tree and home with lights and ornaments, handing out gifts just like Santa Claus to the children and parents at Christmas time.

"This year was extra special for me," Mabra said.

Children's book again rejected by 'Tosa Library, author claims bias towards African American culture!

Compiled by MCJ Editorial Staff

For the second time in over a year, the Wauwatosa Library (WPL) Board rejected adding a book by a Black Milwaukee children's book author to its collection of books for children focusing on their developmental skills, mental health and diversity.

The library board claimed the book 'Coco's Courage: Meeting the Dentist,' written by Shon Lewis, was rejected again because it didn't adhere to their collection policy.

The book was originally rejected by the Wauwatosa library in May of 2021 because of "editing issues" according to WPL Children's Librarian Anne Kissinger.

Lewis claims the library was discriminating against African American culture, noting the book's subject matter was also questioned.

In a statement by Lewis to the MCJ, the author believes the library 'suspiciously' changed their book collection policy "to make it more difficult for Black and Brown books and faith-based books to be added to their library collection."

This past October, Lewis attended a Wauwatosa Library board meeting with a freshly edited hardcover version of her book. It was at that time she asked that the book be considered for use in improving developmental skills, mental health, and diversity.

Lewis was accompanied by a representative from the local NAACP,

Andrea Pratt

Andrea Pratt to run for First District aldermanic seat

Long time public servant and lifelong District resident is daughter of former mayor and alderman Marvin Pratt

First District resident Andrea Pratt recently announced her candidacy for Alderwoman of the district.

"My dedication, passion and professional qualifications are perfectly suited to effectively execute the duties of this office," said Pratt.

"As someone who is a lifelong resident of the First District, who has chosen to raise and educate my children in the First District, I understand the needs of the district and the responsibility to the constituents of the district. I believe, wholeheartedly, in taking care of home first and the 1st District is my home."

Coming from a tradition of public service, she was inspired to run by her father, former Mayor Marvin Pratt.

For the last 25 years, Andrea Pratt has blazed her own trail and gained an abundance of experience as a devoted public servant, having worked in Milwaukee Public Schools, Housing Authority of the City of Milwaukee and the City of Milwaukee Common Council, directly serving the 1st District and most recently the Office of Equity and Inclusion. She has served as Chair of the Rufus King Neighborhood Association and developed partnerships with many community stakeholders throughout the 1st District.

has a deep understanding of the issues that matter most to the people in the district.

He's committed to working tirelessly to address the issues and improve the quality of life for all district residents.

In an effort to engage with the community and hear their concerns first-hand, Thadison will soon launch a series of community briefings where he will be offering solutions to the issues that affect the citizens of district five.

Thadison believes strong leadership and community involvement are key to making the district a better place to live, work and raise a family.

He's looking forward to meeting and working with the district's residents to make this vision a reality.

The election will be held on Tuesday, February 21st, 2023.

MICAH (Milwaukee Innercity Congregations Allied for Hope), and two family members, who made statements during the meeting advocating for the revised book and its addition to the WPL collection.

That same month, the author said her Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) appeal of discrimination was denied by that organization because the case was outside its jurisdiction, that it was a matter for the state of Wisconsin and/or federal government.

The library and Wauwatosa's city attorney denied it acted in a discriminatory manner when the book was first rejected.

This time, Peter Loeffel, the director of the WPL, and City Attorney Hanna Kolberg—when asked by Lewis what in their policy justified a second rejection—would only refer her to a link to their policy.

According to the WPL's 'Collection Development Policy,' a book must meet these five criteria:

- The selectors must consider each type of material in terms of its own merits and the audience for whom it is intended.

No single standard can apply to all acquisition decisions. Some material may be selected primarily for artistic merit or scholarship, while others may be chosen to satisfy the recreational and entertainment needs for the community.

"First my book was rejected for grammar errors. Now they changed their reason to policy reasons? This is discrimination..."

—Children's book author Shon Lewis

- To build a collection of merit and significance, selectors acquire materials according to objective guidelines.

They evaluate acquisitions, whether purchased or donated to the library, primarily by examining reviews in one or more of the professional library review media and checking against the criteria listed below.

- WPL uses a website and social media in order to meet the information needs of patrons.

Professional librarians use the general criteria outlined in this policy when linking to external content.

- WPL is a member of the Milwaukee County Federated Library System and, as such, provides access to materials from other libraries to our patrons.

- Selectors will consider the availability of material at other local and regional libraries when making selection decisions.

"First my book was rejected for grammar errors. Now they changed their reason to policy reasons? This is discrimination," Lewis said.

Coco's Courage Meeting The Dentist, is available at Barnes & Noble, on Amazon, and the Shorewood Library.

Senator Baldwin Joins More Than 70 Total Signers in the Senate and House Urging Biden to Take Executive Action on Paid Sick Days for Rail Workers

WASHINGTON, D.C. – U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin (D-WI) joined Senator Bernie Sanders (I-VT) on Friday on a letter with more than 70 total signers in the House and Senate urging President Biden to take executive action to guarantee rail workers paid sick days.

“While this agreement was much better than the disastrous proposals put forward by the rail industry, it still does not guarantee a single paid sick day to rail workers who work dangerous and difficult jobs, have risked their lives during the pandemic to keep our economy moving and have not received a pay raise in over three years,” the members wrote. “That is unacceptable and must be rectified.”

The letter comes just a week after Congress passed legislation to avert a nationwide rail strike but failed to pass an amendment to guarantee paid sick days to rail workers.

The amendment, which passed the House but failed in the Senate, received the votes of every Senate Democrat, but one, as well as six Republicans. The letter was signed by 15 colleagues in the Senate and 52 in the House.

“As you know, a majority in the United States Senate and the House of Representatives voted for legislation to guarantee seven paid sick days to every rail worker in America,” the members wrote. “Tragically, because of the arcane rules of the Senate, this legislation was filibustered by just 42 Republicans and one Democrat and did not make it to your desk for signature. It is literally beyond belief that rail workers are not guaranteed this basic and fundamental human right. Therefore, we urge you and your administration to do everything within your authority to guarantee rail workers the seven paid sick days that they desperately need through executive action.”

Guaranteeing seven paid sick days to rail workers would cost the rail industry a grand total of $321 million a year – less than 2% of its profits. Last year alone, the rail industry made a record-breaking $20 billion in profits after cutting their workforce by 30% over the last 6 years. In the first three quarters of 2022, rail companies spent $25.5 billion on stock buybacks and dividends. Rail workers across the U.S. currently are guaranteed zero sick days, paid or unpaid, and are forced to work under a points-based attendance policy that can penalize and even fire workers for taking sick time, including for family and health emergencies. The current deal that passed Congress does not include any paid sick days.

In addition to executive order power to deliver paid sick days to rail workers, the letter points to the authority held by the Secretary of Labor under the Occupational Safety and Health Act to set mandatory occupational safety and health standards for businesses affecting interstate commerce, as well as the responsibility of the Secretary of Transportation to promote safety in all areas of railroad operations under the Federal Railroad Safety Act.

In 2015, then President Obama also issued an executive order that required companies with federal contracts to grant at minimum seven days of paid sick leave. However, rail workers were excluded from these protections.

“You can and you must expand this executive order,” the members wrote. “Over 115,000 rail workers in this country are looking to you to guarantee them the dignity at work they deserve and to ensure that our rail system is safe for its workers and for millions of Americans who cross rail tracks every day. Through Executive Order, agency rule-making, and any other applicable authority, we ask that you take quick and decisive action to guarantee these workers paid sick leave.”

Menopausal Monday Mixer set for Dec. 19

December focus will be on creating Vision Boards at The Sugar Maple, 441 E Lincoln Avenue on Monday, December 19th, at 6 p.m.

Join Push MKE's Julie Rowley who will guide you through the vision board process as you focus your intentions, dream big, and create your own vision board to begin to make your dreams a reality in 2023!

Tickets for “Menopausal Monday Mixer” are $5 each through 12/18 or $10 at the door on 12/19 (cash or cc).

Tickets available now on Eventbrite: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/443597049717> and at the door the night of the event. Pre-sales are recommended to insure enough supplies. RSVP to julie@pushmke.com if you plan to pay at the door.

"Julie's vision board workshop was awesome!" past attendee Allyson Nemec remarked, "I've done vision boards before, but her workshop was just the nudge I needed to organize my thoughts and personal and professional goals into a creative format. It is a fun, imaginative and introspective seminar."

Menopausal Monday Mixer is an uplifting, informative, relaxing and welcoming group of women who meet monthly to create community by supporting each other through engaging and entertaining topics.

All women, 21 and older, are encouraged to attend; you do not need to be in the midst of menopause to participate.

"I believe we, as women, have a deep sense of wisdom and power growing within us, and I want to celebrate that power, lift each other up, and learn from each other" explains Push MKE's Julie Rowley.

"Just as there are parent groups when children are born, we need a group for women that helps us navigate all the getting older stuff that we tend to deal with by ourselves. Menopause feels different in each person, and we need each other to know we are not alone."

Julie has been creating vision boards for over two decades. Every year Julie creates a new vision board to set her intention & goals and successfully helps bring them to fruition.

The Black Excellence Awards celebrate its 38th Annual Awards Ceremony with the announcement of Adonica Randall, President and CEO of Abaxent, LLC, as the Keynote Speaker for Milwaukee's most notable event, held during Black History Month on Friday, February 24, 2023, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, 333 W. Kilbourn Avenue, Milwaukee, WI.

"Ms. Randall is a precious hidden American figure who has lived among us and has made a major impact in the world of science and technology as a Woman of Color. We feel privileged to recognize her contributions to the State of Wisconsin and world-wide. She truly represents the epitome of Black Excellence," said Lynda Jackson Conyers, President of The Black Excellence Awards.

Adonica Randall is the President and CEO of Pewaukee-based Abaxent, LLC, and is the leader of the ONLY technology solutions company that is Certified, Minority, Black Woman owned and operated.

In the mid-1970's, Ms. Randall graduated with a Computer Science/Electrical Engineering Degree from Missouri School of Science and Technology, and a Master's Degree in Biomedical Engineering from Marquette University.

In the 1980's, Ms. Randall received a patent in MRI Suite Lighting. Ms. Randall led the Abaxent technical team that partnered with Johnson Controls on the network technology for Fiserv Forum and the COVID-19 Alternate Care Facility at State Fair Park.

Adonica Randall stated, "I am honored to be the keynote speaker for such a significant and worthy event. I have dedicated my professional life to advocating and creating opportunities for African Americans to pursue STEM careers and technology-based entrepreneurial pursuits.

It is imperative to ensure that inclusive future-focused pathways incorporate the richness of African American ingenuity and innovation."

Since 1985, The Black Excellence Awards has honored over 1,200 business and community leaders; and from 1988 to the present, has awarded over half a million dollars to African American graduating high school seniors through the Louvenia Johnson Scholarship Foundation.

CNN Anchor and Senior Political Correspondent Abby Phillip to keynote Milwaukee Delta sorority's Founders Day celebration Feb. 4

CNN Anchor and Senior Political Correspondent Abby Phillip will serve as the keynote speaker at the Milwaukee Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc. marks 110 years of sisterhood, scholarship, service and social action during its Founders Day Celebration on Saturday, Feb. 4. at the Potawatomi Hotel & Casino located at 1721 W. Canal St. in Milwaukee. The theme of the event is "Front Row to History: Be the Change." Doors open at 11 a.m. and the event begins at 11:30 a.m.

In honor of its commitment to educational excellence, the sorority invites all guests to "load up the wagon" and bring a brand-new book for a child in K4 through fifth grade. Its goal is to collect 500 books and donate them to local schools. Guests are invited to purchase books from Rooted MKE located at 5312 W. Vliet St. The support of Black-owned businesses aligns with Delta Sigma Theta Sorority's Five Point Programmatic Thrust, specifically, economic development.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated was founded on January 13, 1913, by 22 collegiate women at Howard University to promote academic excellence and provide assistance to those in need. The Founders of Delta Sigma Theta envisioned an organization committed to sisterhood, scholarship, service, and addressing the social issues of the time. Since its founding, Delta Sigma Theta has become one of the preeminent service-based sororities, with more than 300,000 initiated members and over 1,000 chartered chapters worldwide.

As a sisterhood comprised primarily of Black, college-educated women, the Sorority seriously considers the issues impacting the Black community and boldly confronts the challenges of African Americans and, hence, all Americans. Over the years, a wide range of programs addressing education, health, international development, and the strengthening of African American families have evolved. The major programs of the Sorority are based upon the Five-Point Programmatic Thrust: economic development, educational development, international awareness and involvement, physical and mental health, and political awareness and involvement. Since January 27, 1945, the Milwaukee Alumnae Chapter has been transforming lives and uplifting the community by implementing Delta's programs.

Council meeting.

"The Housing Trust Fund has made a significant difference for Milwaukee families and neighborhoods, by making supportive housing, homeownership and rental housing more affordable for people who want to live here," Alderman Murphy said.

"I want to thank the city staff involved in handling and evaluating the proposals, as well as the members of the advisory board for their dedication and thoughtful deliberation."

Alderman Murphy said the selection process was made possible by a significant $10 million investment in the HTF by the Common Council and Mayor Johnson, and the process was again driven by valuable input provided by residents and community groups.

The alderman said the 14 projects selected by the advisory board for funding would also create jobs and valuable opportunities for construction workers, carpenters, and those in the trades.

"The Housing Trust Fund Advisory Board takes its work very seriously and is cognizant that the projects selected are healthy investments for Milwaukee that bring critical economic activity and dollars into local businesses and into the lives of workers and their families," Alderman Murphy said.

Alderman Robert J. Bauman, a member of the Housing Trust Fund Advisory Board and a longtime advocate for affordable housing, said the projects approved today "represent the affordable housing investment and commitment that is needed each year across Milwaukee."

"This investment of $10 million this year is part of the largest investment of city funds in affordable housing in the city's history, and I am so very pleased to see it," he said.

Alderman JoCasta Zamarrripa, also a longtime affordable housing proponent, said the creation of new affordable, supportive housing is critical in Milwaukee.

"On the near south side, in my district, and across our city, the need (for supportive, affordable housing) is great, and these Housing Trust Fund projects provide great help at the margins, where families and others can access secure and vital housing they can afford," she said.

This year, requestors proposed projects seeking nearly $28 million in HTF funding. Of these recommendations, 14 were selected to receive funding.

The approved HTF awards include:

- $1.5 million to General Capital – MLK Library, N. MLK Dr. and W. Locust St. – serving low-income renters. Amount leveraged - $30.7 million. Estimated total project cost - $32.2 million. New construction of apartments, with 93 housing units.

- $1.25 million to Milwaukee Habitat for Humanity (owner-occupied, rehabbed structures/scattered site) – very low-income homeowners. Estimated total project cost - $1.25 million.

Housing Trust Fund projects approved/ADD TWO

- $1.25 million to Revitalize Milwaukee (owner-occupied, rehabbed structures/scattered site) – very low-income homeowners. Estimated total project cost - $1.25 million. Rehab of existing homes.

- $1.25 million to ACTS Housing (owner-occupied, rehabbed structures/scattered site) – very low-income homeowners. Amount leveraged - $8.5 million. Estimated total project cost - $9.75 million. Rehab of existing homes, 100 housing units.

- $1 million to General Capital – Riverwest project – serving low-income renters. Amount leveraged - $25.7 million. Estimated total project cost - $26.7 million. New construction of apartments, with 91 housing units.

- $783,765 to Moving Out/Rule Enterprises – 1887 N. Water St. – serving low-income renters. Amount leveraged - $20.6 million. Estimated total project cost - $21.4 million. New construction of apartments, with 79 housing units.

- $500,000 to KG Development – 2436 N. 50th St. – serving low-income renters. Amount leveraged - $6.1 million. Estimated total project cost - $6.6 million. Rehab of existing building, 40 units of supportive housing.

- $500,000 for the Fit – Cinnair – Bronzeville, 6th and North – serving low-income renters. Amount leveraged - $12.9 million. Estimated total project cost - $13.4 million. New construction of apartments, with 54 housing units.

- $250,000 for Wisconsin Community Services – 5008 W. Center St. – serving low-income renters. Amount leveraged - $560,000. Estimated total project cost - $810,000. Rehab of existing building, seven units of housing.

- Independence First – $100,000 for home purchasing assistance for individuals with disabilities (featuring Community Accessibility/Transition Project or CATP, designed to stabilize existing living situations for people with disabilities, as well as facilitate the movement of persons from institutions such as nursing homes, assisted living facilities, corrections, and other institutions back into the community).

- Bear Development - FS Apartments E. Becher St., $835,000. New construction of low-income apartments (592 apartments).

- Gorman & Co. – former Edison Middle School, 5372 N. 37th St., $965,000. Senior apartments (rehab) and new construction of town homes, 63 apartments and 12 townhomes.

- Social Development Foundation – $350,000 for homebuyer assistance services.

I was working on a review of Patti LaBelle's long-awaited Milwaukee show in my mind even as I was driving to the Riverside Theater Saturday night.

I had only seen 'Princess Patti' in person once before, two decades ago. Still, memories of her exhilarating performance was renewed every time I heard one of her gold or platinum awarded songs on the radio, any number of CDs, LPs, and cassettes I continue to own (even if I don't have the appropriate player).

When my wife and I attended her performance at Disney World in 1991, it was during that theme park's anniversary celebration. Fortunately, the celebration coincided with the release of her sensational LP, 'Burnin'.

The theme park was closed to the public, and the assembled media had its choice of three stage performances to attend at the conclusion of the celebration.

I don't know who the other performers were---country western and rock—but I vividly recalled that all African Americans (and other folks with good taste) were assembled within a stone's throw of the Patti stage.

We were greeted with one of the best performances of my long life. In fact, one recollection that has transcended time was her hitting a note at the conclusion of a song, leaving the stage with the microphone in hand, continuing to hold that note as she changed clothes, shoes, drank a soda, and finished writing her recipe for sweet potato pie. She then returned to the stage as if nothing had happened.

Phenomenal doesn't fully describe it.

That night the sexy songstress hit notes that shook my ancestors in Sierra Leone and Kemet.

Patti's range, stage gyrations, and emotive interpretations put her in a class all by herself.

So, take that reminiscence as my Saturday review because, as you probably heard, Patti's show was terminated after three short songs because some forked-tongued fool called in a fictitious bomb threat.

Excuse my French, but damn!

One of the greatest singers of our time, defying time and evolving (or maybe that should be 'de-evolving') musical tastes, the 78 (couldn't convince any who saw her dancing across the stage with a dip in her hip and glide in her stride of her age), it was apparent Patti had lost nothing over the years.

Speaking of loss, I would have no problem if one of the pyramids built by the pharaohs fell down on the scum bag who called in the threat.

People traveled from Illinois and Indiana for the show which—we assumed—may be her last performance in the Midwest.

I had planned on attending since first hearing of the show last summer. And then some fool—bastard, turd, punk, or punkette—destroyed it for all of us.

Or should we be glad it was a false alarm? Or appreciative that the thug or 'thugette' opened our eyes to a new reality: that we are not safe anywhere these days.

Bomb scare-terminated Patti LaBelle show reminds us that...

"We're Not Safe Anywhere Anymore!"

I mistakenly assumed there were some places we could still go to without fear of some young terrorist or gangsta wanna-be putting those of us who opened doors and fought for their freedom putting our lives in jeopardy.

And that's of particular interest to us seniors and elders.

Hey, first they took away our 'watering places' (bars)—even jazz venues and old-school joints---by shooting-up respectable establishments or, in confrontations, outside the clubs.

For that reason, most seniors and wise middle-aged folks stopped going to 'bars.'

And then these gangstas and thugs ('thugettes') showed up at schools, Bucks games, and even churches ('churches' for cryin'-out-loud!).

And now concerts that draw folk of my era. We're not talking about gangsta rap by the likes of 'Two Quarters,' or 'Snoop Doggy Dud,' but old-school R&B.

Isn't any old-school R&B event sacred anymore?

Has this city, which is losing residents as we break homicide records yearly, gone the way of East St. Louis or (parish the thought) Gary?

That was a rhetorical question because you know the answer. We've become Syria, Ukraine, or Burleigh Street after 10 p.m.

The last few years have witnessed a cultural transformation in America. Unfortunately, not for the better.

The COVID-19 pandemic played a role in this new negative social paradigm.

But you can't put all of the blame on the anxiety and depression that grew from that poisonous tree—or 'weed.'

In fact, you can place some of the blame on weed...and cocaine...and alcohol. Sugar and lead (as in lead paint and lead-lined water pipes) also contribute.

Add to those chemicals stress from unemployment, deterioration of values and mores, and even partisan politics.

And, as was noted on these pages recently, the abysmal state of education locks a generation out of the success equation and fuels dysfunctional families. It steers many of our tribe into the 'Culture of Poverty.' You have a diagnosis (as the television title) for murder.

Put some blame on the media, or at least social media.

The murder rate in Milwaukee is at an all-time high. One of the latest sensationalistic murders was committed by an impressionable 10-year-old boy who killed his mother over a video game.

The end result is a community where no one feels safe, as terrorism, stupidity, and PTSD run rampant.

There are no more innocent bystanders, only collateral damage.

I do 96% of my grocery shopping at Pick n' Save because that store is the only local grocery that markets to the Black community. The others have intentionally built outside the community, almost as if they are afraid of Black people or don't want us to utilize their facilities for fear we bring herpes or COVID-19 to their establishments.

Recently, however, I took my mother-in-law to Woodman's because that 'employee-owned' establishment carries a more extensive assortment of greens.

I was shocked to be greeted at the store just south of Brown Deer by armed guards. Vested and in black.

They rotated from what appeared to be an armored vehicle. What message is the grocery owners sending?

I almost expect guards and security since there have been reports of chickens being freed and running north to freedom. But those men in black fatigues, armed and wearing vests, were not hunters.

A couple of weeks ago, I went to the Menomonee Falls Marcus Theater (on senior day---can't afford it otherwise). Again, armed security. Does the movie chain have armed guards at its other suburban theaters? That, too, is a rhetorical question.)

Public schools have metal detectors. Malls have machine gun towers, and Black Wauwatosa cops who will shoot you down.

I know of several large Black churches where the ushers carry more than bibles.

Pretty soon, even the police will have armed security.

Let's face it: this is the new norm.

So, I shouldn't have been shocked that there was a bomb threat at a Patti LaBelle concert.

In fact, even though I stood outside with hundreds of fans hoping against hope the police, who had blocked off Wisconsin Avenue, would announce it was safe to return, allowing us to partake of one of the few venues left to Black seniors. I should have remembered one of her top ten songs: 'I gotta new attitude.' Yeah, we hard working, law abiding, tax paying citizens (and seniors) gotta get one too.

Hotep.

At a time when U.S. cities have been torn apart by crushing housing costs, contentious battles over police and crime, and the ever-widening divide between haves and have-nots, Karen Bass embraced unity Sunday night as she set out to lead Los Angeles. Bass, a former House member representing Los Angeles, was inaugurated as the city's 43rd mayor Sunday night amid fanfare that included a swearing-in by Vice President Kamala Harris and performances by Stevie Wonder and Las Cafeteras, a Chicano band from East L.A. that fuses Afro-Mexican sounds, roots music and migrant narratives.

Bass is tasked with patching fissures in the social contract in a city rocked by racist remarks uttered by a few City Council members and witnessed by a labor leader in a secret recording revealed in October. All have resigned except Kevin De León who, under pressure to vacate his seat, got into a physical confrontation with an activist Thursday that is now under police investigation.

The city's homelessness crisis, both an incubator for street crime and a corollary to skyrocketing housing costs, touches almost every facet of life in L.A., even when it's just a backdrop.

Bass vowed Sunday to attack it head-on by declaring a city-wide state of emergency, an idea that had been circulating through City Hall since at least 2015.

The problem, fueled by out-of-reach housing costs caused in part by flipping and speculating and by absentee real estate investors, is bigger than L.A. Squalid encampments can be found from the U.S.-Mexico border north to Sacramento and in every other big city across America.

But Bass, at least, has quickly zeroed in on new housing.

"We know our mission," Bass said. "We must build housing in every neighborhood."

On Sunday, she became the first woman to lead the city and the second Black American, after the 20-year tenure of Tom Bradley in the 1970s, '80s and '90s, to do so.

In November, she beat developer Rick Caruso, known for his successful shopping centers, including the ultrapopular Grove, and his impeccable suits, in a runoff to replace outgoing Democrat Eric Garcetti. Caruso is a former Republican in a heavily Democratic and labor-friendly city. He spent $100 million of his own money on the run.

Bass, 69, spoke of shared vision Sunday.

"If we come together and focus on solutions rather than jurisdiction and on linking arms rather than pointing fingers, we will save lives in our city," she said in a video address after her inauguration.

"That is my mission as your mayor," she said.

Garcetti, a white man with Mexican, Italian and Jewish heritage, tried to please the city's important interest groups, which include Hollywood, homeowners associations and organizations that represent L.A.'s impossibly vast ethnic enclaves.

Bass is promising a new day and inspiring L.A.'s guardians to forget about the bickering, at least for a moment.

"In our city's 241-year history, we've never witnessed a day like today as Los Angeles came together to celebrate the swearing in of Mayor Karen Bass," Mark Gonzalez, the chair of the Los Angeles County Democratic Party, said in a statement.

Amanda Gorman, the country's first National Youth Poet Laureate, explained the moment during Sunday's ceremony and celebration.

"Where there's will, there's women," she said. "And where there's women, there's forever a way."

GOP U.S. Congressional Candidate Tim Rogers announces his intention to run again in two years

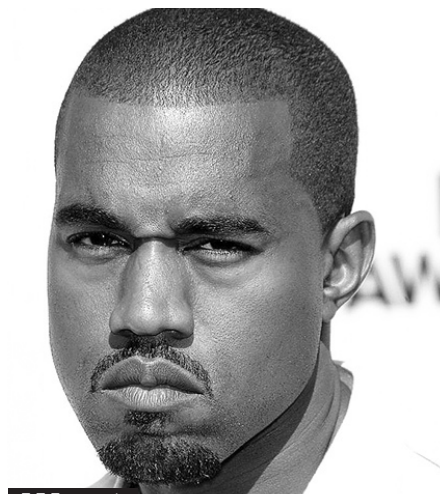

Two weeks after losing to U.S. Congresswoman Gwen Moore, Republican candidate Tim Rogers announced he will be a candidate for the congressional seat in 2024. "There were significant policy differences between myself and my opponent," said Rogers in a statement. "I remain convinced that these issues will only grow in importance to the voters in my district in the future."

Though he admits he did not prevail at the ballot box, Rogers said he remains convinced that his campaign brought needed attention to the issues confronting the district and the nation, such as energy independence, universal school choice, criminal justice re-

Tim Rogers form, clean drinking water and lower (and fair) taxes.

Rogers believes his campaign brought "new energy and hope to our community, and I promise to remain committed to those issues."

Kanye West named anti-Semite of the year!

Kanye West has been named anti-Semite of the year after a poll of nearly 10,000 online votes collected from the anti-hate watchdog group 'StopAntisemitism.'

"Kanye uses his celebrity platform to push dangerous antisemitic tropes about Jews and power and he refuses to stop.

His continuous onslaught of bigoted statements has resulted in horrific antisemitic acts perpetrated by White supremacists, Black Hebrew Israelites, and other fringe groups looking to cause Jews harm," SA Executive Director Liora Rez told TMZ in an interview.

"Jew hatred is already out of control in the United States and the last thing we need is a celebrity like Kanye to add fuel to that fire," she added.

Shortly after West declared he was, "going death con 3 On JEWISH PEOPLE" a group was spotted hanging a "Kanye is right about the Jews" sign over a Los Angeles freeway.

Several days later, West told Piers Morgan he only wanted to hurt Jewish people who purportedly wronged him in the music industry.

Then, last week on Alex Jones "Infowars" West declared he loved Hitler and denied parts of the Holocaust.

His sponsors such as Adidas and Balenciaga have canceled contracts and the former music star lost an honorary degree.

FOR TEEN GIRLS INC.

SELECTED BY STAND TOGETHER FOUNDATION TO BECOME CATALYST IMPACT PARTNER

PEARLS For Teen Girls joins the first group of Catalyst Impact Partners, receiving management training, access to new customer-first impact measurement approach, and up to $300,000 in grants over the next three years

PEARLS for Teen Girls, is proud to announce it has been selected to participate in Stand Together Foundation's new Catalyst Impact Grant Program, an initiative cultivating a group of the country's most transformative nonprofits that demonstrate a better way to transform individual lives and create lasting change.

The Catalyst Impact Grant Program awards each incoming Impact Partner with Principle Based Management TM coaching and consulting, access to a new customer-first measurement approach created by Stand Together Foundation to understand and differentiate their impact, and grants up to $300,000 over three years.

By 2025, Stand Together Foundation's goal is to invest in up to 100 Catalyst partners who have successfully completed the Catalyst Program, committing up to $30 million to accelerate non-profit impact and transform how society thinks about addressing poverty and social barriers.

PEARLS For Teen Girls is one of the first 25 Catalysts to have been selected to join the new Catalyst Impact Grant Program, which officially kicks off January, 2023. Nonprofits selected have the key ingredients to break the cycle of poverty.

They put people at the forefront, see the unique potential in every individual, and are changing the way the country thinks about, talks about, and tackles poverty.

The grant program is designed to provide resources for increased effectiveness, including management training and customer feedback tools to help nonprofits grow, scale, and replicate their success. Click here to view a full list of the first 25 Catalyst Impact Partners.

"As PEARLS embarks on its thirtieth year, the Catalyst Impact Grant Program offers us an amazing opportunity to continue to strengthen our own impact in empowering Milwaukee's girls to be their best selves. We are proud to be part of this first cohort of Catalysts and look forward to our collective work in breaking the cycle of poverty," Beth Myers, PEARLS Board Chair.

Stand Together Foundation partners with the highest impact nonprofits around the nation, all committed to empowering the individuals they serve through a principled approach.

This means that instead of treating people as problems to be managed with sweeping, top-down plans, these organizations help people realize their full potential through bottom-up empowerment and solutions that help individuals transform themselves and the world around them. Today, Stand Together Foundation partners with almost 300 nonprofits, across all 50 states.

PEARLS For Teen Girls provides small-group, leadership and empowerment programming to support girls in developing life skills that are crucial for their well-being in adolescence and for their ability to thrive, flourish, and contribute to the community as adults.

PEARLS currently serves over 1,000 girls across Milwaukee through small groups, college and career events, goal setting, and 1-on-1 mentorship via their Coach Program.

PEARLS For Teen Girls was selected through an extensive vetting process and accepted into the program after a rigorous evaluation focused on impact, customer surveying, reach, and principle alignment.

Stand Together Foundation's Catalyst Impact Partner Initiative represents an investment in the diversity of nonprofits, audiences, and solutions as the way to end poverty. The 25 Impact Partners have diverse program models across the nation and are uniquely suited for rapid iteration and experimentation based on data collection and customer feedback.

Each of these organizations focus on relationships with their customers and prioritize individual transformation rather than transactional services.

"Our Catalyst partners take a unique approach to helping people overcome barriers that is anchored in a strong belief in people," said Evan Feinberg, executive director at Stand Together Foundation.

"This initiative is about deepening our partnership so that Catalysts can scale their reach, better understand their impact, and ultimately transform the way society thinks about addressing social barriers.

"If these organizations continue to grow in their effectiveness, and everyone in the country hears about what they are doing, we can transform the entire social sector in America."

Catalyst Impact Partners will be expected to:

- Model a "customer-first" impact vision. Catalyst Impact Partners will participate in Stand Together Foundation's pioneering measurement approach to understand impact through customer feedback.
- Advance a management culture that empowers employees. Catalyst Impact Partners will focus on leveraging Principle Based Management to empower their employees to empower the people they serve.
- Build the movement toward empowerment. Identify with and advocate for a culture of openness, dignity, mutual benefit, and empowerment among philanthropists, nonprofits, and the broader social sector.

SHIRKESHA BOOTHE 4827 W LUSCHER AVE MILWAUKEE WI 53218, Petitioner and DAMION BOOTHE 4224 N 26TH STREET MILWAUKEE WI 53209, Respondent

THE STATE OF WISCONSIN, to the person named above as a respondent

You are hereby notified that your spouse has filed a lawsuit or other legal action against you. The Petitioner, which is attached, states the nature and basis of the legal action.
Within 20 days of receiving this Summons, you must provide a written response, as that term is used in Ch. 802, Wis. Stats., to the Petition. The Court may reject or disregard a response that does not follow the requirements of the statutes.

The response must be sent or delivered to the following government office:
Clerk of Court Milwaukee County 901 N 9th St. Rm 104 Milwaukee WI 53233.

The response must also be mailed or delivered within 20 days to the petitioner at the address above.
It is recommended, but not required, that you have an attorney help or represent you.

If you do not provide a proper response within 20 days, the court may grant judgment against you and you may lose your right to object to anything that is or may be incorrect in the Petition.

A judgement may be enforced as provided by law. A judgment may become a lien against any real estate you own now or in the future, and may also be enforced by garnishment or seizure of property.

Dated in Milwaukee, Wisconsin this 30th day of September 2022
