undergraduate, and graduate education to help cultivate a vibrant STEM workforce that keeps America at the forefront of global innovation.

Bipartisan Infrastructure Law

- Provide $55 billion for clean water infrastructure, including $15 billion specifically to remove lead pipes nationwide.
- Provided funding to Increase access to high-speed internet, so no community gets left behind.
- Provide funding to fix our crumbling roads and bridges, with Wisconsin, estimated to receive $5.2 billion for road improvements and $225 million for bridge enhancements.
- Reduce transportation-related greenhouse gas emissions, with Wisconsin expected to receive $125 million.

• Help make our roads safer for residents while addressing the harms caused when the interstate system or other transportation projects separated some communities.

- Secure $3.5 billion in funding to help Americans improve their homes' energy efficiency, lowering costs for those who struggle to pay energy bills.

• Help transform brownfields, abandoned and idle properties, into spaces that benefit residents and our community.

- Improve our airports, with Wisconsin estimated to receive $198 million for these efforts.

Legislative Achievements

My legislation became law to award every member of the 6888th Central Postal Directory Battalion, the only all-Black Women's Army Corps Battalion to serve overseas during WWII, a Congressional Gold Medal.

This legislation honors our heroes who served our country, providing long overdue national recognition.

ognition.

Additionally, I:

- Successfully included provisions in the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) reauthorization that called for a study of the impact of intimate partner violence on maternal health.

- Including a proposal in the VAWA to increase tribal sovereignty, allowing tribal police to have jurisdiction over more crimes.

My provision, which I worked with my colleague Rep. Lucy McBath on, to the SECURE 2.0 Act became law that would allow domestic violence victims to withdraw funding from their retirement accounts without penalty if they are fleeing from an abuser.

This funding will help them as they rebuild their lives.

I also fought for key programs and initiatives in the appropriations package to address child hunger, promote healthier communities, support low-income, and first-generation students, address homelessness, and protect domestic abuse survivors and their children.

This includes the FY 2023:

- A $54 million increase in TRIO.
- $6 billion for WIC, which will help meet anticipated needs and support a year-long increase in fruit and vegetable cash voucher.

• $3 million in School Breakfast expansion grants, which was originally created in the program I authored in the 2010 Child Nutrition Authorization Act.

- $3.6 billion in increases for the McKinney Vento programs.

• $700 million for Department of Justice (DOJ) VAWA programs.

• $51 million for the CDC's Childhood Lead Poisoning program.

• $415 million for the HUD Office of Lead Hazard Control and Healthy Home.

Additionally, I secured over $25 million for community-funded projects in this bill.

That was in addition to the over $5 million I secured for local projects in the FY 2022 funding process.

Water Resources Development Act: My provision was included in the Water Resources Development Act of 2022 authorizing a project in Milwaukee to use green infrastructure to help reduce the volume of water entering our sewers during storm events, and contributing to sewer overflows into nearby waterbodies.

This bill became law on December 29, 2022.

I also championed community projects (formerly called earmarks), which will directly benefit Wisconsin's 4th District residents. Take a look at some of the district-wide funding and a map of location-specific funding.

1. $2.5 MILLION FOR BROWN DEER PARK
2. $500,000 FOR NORTH SHORE LIBRARY
3. $4 MILLION FOR RECONSTRUCTING SILVER SPRING DRIVE
4. $750,000 FOR WESTLAWN COMMUNITY CENTER
5. $250,000 FOR MILWAUKEE PUBLIC LIBRARY CHILDREN'S LITERACY PROGRAMS
6. $2.35 MILLION FOR CONCORDIA NEIGHBORHOOD AFFORDABLE HOUSING
7. $300,000 FOR THE MUSLIM COMMUNITY AND HEALTH CENTER TO EXPAND MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

Genetic Ancestry and All of Us

Your DNA carries a record of generations past

You get half of your DNA from your biological mother. The other half is from your biological father. Because of this, your DNA can tell you about your genetic ancestors from the last few hundred years.

What you can learn

Your genetic ancestry tells you where your recent ancestors likely lived. This is based on your DNA. Before global travel became possible, people from the same region shared patterns of DNA. As they migrated and blended with others from different geographic regions, these DNA patterns became mixed.

People often wonder if genetic ancestry and ethnicity are the same thing. They aren't. Genetic ancestry is about where on the globe your relatives came from. Ethnicity means a group of people who share things like language, religious beliefs, or culture. People of the same ethnicity often share the same genetic ancestry. But this isn't always the case.

It's also important to remember that your identity is about more than just DNA. Your story includes family stories passed down from generation to generation. Historical records can also help. Together with your DNA, this information can be used to help build your family tree and to tell the story of how your family has shaped who you are.

How we get these results and why your participation matters

When you join the All of Us Research Program, you can provide blood (or saliva) samples. These samples contain your DNA. We use a method called genotyping to generate data about your DNA. Genotyping looks at a small amount of DNA that gives us information about many of the more common DNA changes among us.

Department of Justice Initiative Fights Redlining in Cyberspace and the Real World

Former Facebook and City National Bank agree to new operating terms, and investments
By Charlene Crowell

As 2023 begins, a key anti-financial discrimination initiative is expanding million-dollar penalties and the kinds of businesses found to violate fair lending laws. The Combatting Redlining Initiative that since 2021 has combined resources and efforts of the Department of Justice (DOJ), Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) is now holding a social media giant as well as another bank accountable for violations of fair credit and lending laws.

A January 9 settlement with Meta Platforms - formerly Facebook, Inc. - marks the first time that a social media platform will be subject to court oversight for its advertising targeting and delivery system.

As the world's largest social media platform, the enforcement action will affect its 264 million users in the United States and Canada, as well as 10 million advertisers that in the third quarter of 2022 generated $27.71 billion in revenues.

According to settlement terms, Meta's new system will measure algorithmic discrimination that violates the Fair Housing Act. Meta will be subject to federal court oversight monitoring and regular reviews through June 26, 2026 to determine whether all terms of the settlement are honored.

Guidehouse, Inc., an independent third-party reviewer will verify Meta's adherence to settlement metrics. Meta must provide this monitor with regular compliance reports and any necessary information.

"Federal monitoring of Meta should send a strong signal to other tech companies that they too will be held accountable for failing to address algorithmic discrimination that runs afoul of our civil rights laws," said Assistant Attorney General Kristen Clarke of the Justice's Civil Rights Division.

The Justice Department also continues to move against lenders who allow discrimination in their lending practices.

On January 12, Los Angeles-based City National Bank, with 58 California locations as well as branches in nine other states and the District of Columbia, reached a $31 million settlement with DOJ's Redlining Initiative, the largest such agreement in DOJ's history.

According to DOJ, from 2017 until at least 2020, City National failed to provide mortgage lending in Los Angeles County's majority Black and Latino neighborhoods.

Further, during more than 20 years when the bank either opened or acquired 11 additional branches, only one was located in a majority-minority neighborhood.

And unlike branches located in majority white areas, City National did not assign any employee at that one branch to generate mortgage lending.
