HARVARD DEBATE COACH DELIVERS
MESSAGE OF TRANSFORMATION
AND INSPIRATION FOR TODAY'S TEENS

From being an at-risk youth and college dropout to an award-winning author, Brandon F. Fleming story is one of overcoming the odds.

From his book MISEDUCATED: A Memoir, Fleming will share his story of struggle, success, and service with guests at the 45th Delta Memorial Endowment Fund's (DMEF) Literary Luncheon on Saturday, April 22, starting at 11:30 a.m. on at the Hyatt Regency, 333 W. Kilbourn Ave.

The renowned speaker, nationally acclaimed educator is a former debate coach at Harvard University and Founder & CEO of The Veritas School of Social Sciences, formerly known as the Harvard Debate Council Diversity Project.

Fleming recruited under-served youth with no prior debate experience who he trained to compete against hundreds of elite debaters from over 25 different countries around the world.

For five consecutive years, since the program's inception in 2017, every cohort he trained has won the international competition.

His groundbreaking organization positioned students for acceptance into Ivy League schools and other elite colleges and universities.

Fleming's story has been featured on major news media and shows such as CNN, ESPN, Good Morning America to name a few.

He's been named to Forbes 30 under 30 list, and in 2020 and was named by The Root magazine as one of the top 100 most influential African Americans in the United States.

The Literary Luncheon is the signature event of DMEF, Inc. Each year, DMEF Inc. hosts notable authors and the event proceeds provide funding for college scholarships to graduating high school seniors, as well as to charitable organizations.

Past guest authors have included luminaries like Maya Angelou, Dr. Ian K. Smith, Alice E. Walker, Natalie Baszile, Jesse J. Holland, Dr. James Comer, Alvin C. Hollingsworth, Octavia Butler, Pearl Cleage, Phyllis Dixon, ReShonda Tate Billingsley, Attica Locke, Jeff Johnson, Barbara Reynolds, E. Lynn Harris and Wisconsin Poet Laureate Dasha Kelly-Hamilton.

Advancing Health Literacy Project Kickoff Launches Community Based Research to Address Health and Racial Inequities

The Milwaukee County Office of Equity and the City of Milwaukee Office of African American Affairs invite residents to be part of their Advancing Health Literacy Project Kickoff on Monday, March 27 from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at the Center Street Public Library, located at 2727 W. Fond du Lac Avenue.

The event launches a series of focus groups to understand how those most affected by health and racial inequities in county

Easter Egg Hunt Set for April 1!

No fooling, ST. ANN CENTER'S Bucyrus Campus is Planning an Eggs-travaganza!

Easter's coming, which means the return of the free Easter Egg Hunt at St. Ann Center's Bucyrus Campus, 2450 W. North Ave., on Saturday, April 1.

The hunt gets started at 11 a.m. sharp and continues until all eggs are gone – first come, first serve. Children 3 and younger will hunt in the Intergenerational Playgarden, the smaller, fenced-in area on the main building's east side. Children ages 4-11 will hunt in the larger area near the Indaba Band Shell to the rear of the main building.

No matter what their age, all children must be supervised in their hunt area by an adult. Families with children hunting in both locations need to bring an adult to supervise at each.

Parents may park in the center's lots; street parking is also available.

After the hunt, parents can snap photos of their children with the Easter Bunny on the bandshell stage. They can also tour the center's childcare wings and other areas – including the nature-based curriculum classroom, the large central atrium, the warm-water swimming pool, the hydroponic growing units, library and art room. In case of heavy rain (or accumulated snow on the ground) the hunt will be moved indoors to the atrium; enter through the front door. For more information, contact Lori Grzybowski at (414) 977-5064.

The custom of the Easter egg hunt comes from Germany. Some suggest that its origins date back to the late 16th century, when the Protestant reformer Martin Luther organised egg hunts for his congregation. The men would hide the eggs for the women and children to find.—Source: Google Advancing Health Literacy Milwaukee is a project supported by the Office of Minority Health at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

At the kickoff, attendees will learn how they can take part in this grant funded, community-based research by sharing their personal experiences.

Residents that agree to take part in upcoming focus groups addressing various health topics will receive stipends.

To learn more about the project, residents are encouraged to sign up online (countymilwaukee.gov/EN/Office-of-Equity).

especially ones that have systemically harmed communities of color," said Milwaukee County's Chief Equity Officer and Director of the Milwaukee County Office of Equity Jeff Roman.

"Through the Advancing Health Literacy Kickoff Event and the listening sessions that will follow it, residents can share with us personal stories about how they have been personally impacted by what we call social determinants of health (health care, education, neighborhoods, social connections and economic stability). One's race and zip code should not dictate or predict one's quality of life," said Roman.

"We believe health literacy is an important way to advance health equity. Our communities are essential in guiding projects and getting understandable messages to their loved ones before a crisis occurs," said City of Milwaukee Office of African American Affairs Director Darryl Davidson.

FHA makes housing more affordable for 850,000 borrowers

Savings tied to median market home prices

By Charlene Crowell

Beginning March 20, a recent move by the Biden Administration will make owning a home more affordable for current and prospective homebuyers.

Arriving just in time for the spring buying season, 850,000 mortgage borrowers who used FHA-financing for their homes as well as families choosing this popular mortgage program will benefit from lowered mortgage insurance premiums.

This monthly fee, paid along with principal and interest owed will be cut by 0.3 percentage points, thereby lowering regular monthly costs.

The cut is also reflected in President Biden's new budget proposal. With housing affordability straining many efforts to become homeowners, the lowered costs triggered by the insurance premium deduction can be an important difference.

"For this country to truly succeed, all Americans must have access to opportunity. That means expanding access to wealth-building and home ownership," said HUD Secretary Marcia L. Fudge in a recent interview.

"Today, we are building on the steps we've taken to make homeownership more affordable, and HUD is acting to ensure people feel comfortable purchasing a home as they build toward their future.

As we reduce housing costs for people with FHA mortgages, we continue our work to address longstanding disparities in homeownership."

Although actual dollar savings will vary by market and locale, families who borrowed at the national median price of $270,000 for their home will see an annual savings of approximately $800.

In markets where median prices are higher, higher dollar savings will apply. Conversely, in area where median home prices are lower than the national one, savings will be smaller.

For example, in Detroit where the median priced home is $200K, the annual savings for FHA borrowers will be approximately $600.

By contrast, FHA borrowers in Prince George's County, MD, where the average home price is $300K, annual mortgage premium insurance savings will rise to $900 each year. FHA borrowers in Austin, TX can look forward to an estimated $1,500 in yearly savings on the market's homes valued at $500K. In Boston, Los Angeles, and New York, where the median price of homes is even higher, so too will be those borrowers' savings.

The program's cost-cutting is made possible by the growth in recent years in the fund's accumulated reserves, now five times the amount required by Congress. This financial heft strengthens the program's financial stability and was accomplished by multiple factors.

Administratively, HUD updated underwriting policies that enabled lenders to include both rental history and student loan debt in determining mortgage applicants' creditworthiness. Also, HUD's mortgage loan

- Breezy Hill Nursery
- Excel Custom Contractors, LLC
- Exteriors Unlimited Landscape Contractors
- Extreme Exteriors
- Loomis Pools and Landscaping

An annual favorite, Aquatica will create a show-stopping feature landscape display at the show's entrance to bedazzle attendees with a one-of-a-kind "Jewel of Your Backyard" garden.

Featuring fresh landscape trends, including elaborate water features, native Wisconsin stone and plant varieties, and pirate-inspired motifs and decor, Aquatica's unique design will showcase a backyard unlike any other.

Admission to the REAL-

TORS® Home & Garden Show is $10 for adults, $6 for seniors 65+ (on-site box office only), and free for children 12 years old and under, as well as for active or retired military (on-site box office only with valid ID). For children up to 12 years old, a limited number of Sprout's Club VIP tickets will be available for $5, which include a club bag, show-themed gift, and voucher for a concessions treat. A special $2 off admission discount offer sponsored by Callen Construction is available to download at www.callen-construction.com/rhgs. Tickets are on sale now at www.mkehgs.com. Parking is available at Wisconsin State Fair Park for $10 per vehicle or $5 per motorcycle.

ABOUT MILWAUKEE COMMUNITY JOURNAL (MCJ) WEEKEND EDITION

The Milwaukee Community Journal Weekend Edition is published weekly. Each week, MCJ Weekend focuses on different subjects, HEALTH, PERSONAL, FINANCE, FAMILY, MEN, AND WOMEN. THE WEEKEND EDITION now includes the publishing of records designated by the Milwaukee County Circuit Court for publication of legal notices, with added value in the Wednesday Edition. The Weekend Edition is a public newspaper of general circulation that complies with the laws of Wisconsin relating to publication of legal notices. MCJ Weekend Edition has published weekly over ten years, in the State of Wisconsin and Milwaukee County. We have a paid circulation of approximately 89% of our circulation, weekly. And our actual paid subscribers are over the 1000 required by State Statute.

ABOUT THE MILWAUKEE COMMUNITY JOURNAL (MCJ)

The Milwaukee Community Journal (MCJ) is a quality news organization published throughout Milwaukee and the surrounding suburbs. Established in 1976, the Milwaukee Community Journal has advanced the plight, struggles and victories of minorities in Wisconsin, with a passion for building community. The MCJ accentuates the positive, analyzes the negatives and advocates to seed success. The Milwaukee Community Journal stockholders are Patricia O'Flynn Pattillo (90%); Mikel Holt (5%); and Todd Thomas (5%) respectively, and is current in filing by the State of Wisconsin, effective October 10, 2018.

Matters of the Heart

How women can help prevent heart disease at any age!

Heart disease is the number one killer of women, accounting for more women’s deaths than all forms of cancer combined.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), more than 314,000 women in the United States died of heart disease in 2020.

“One in nine women over age 45 has heart disease,” says Howard Levitt, MD, Medical Director of Ambulatory Cardiology and Director of the Cardiovascular Training Program at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center (NBI) “That number jumps to one in three for women over 65.”

The statistics are sobering. But the good news is that there are many things women can do to avoid becoming one of those statistics.

Dr. Levitt likens the prevention of heart

“If you smoke, stop,” says Dr. Levitt. “It will do so much to improve your heart health.” Research has shown that after just one year of quitting, your risk of developing heart disease will be cut by as much as 50 percent.

disease to a card game. “Much of it has to do with knowing how to play the hand you’re dealt,” he says. “There are some risk factors that can’t be modified, like genetics, and some that can, like lifestyle. You can win with a bad hand if you play properly, just as you can lose with a ‘good’hand if you play poorly.”

Matters of the Heart How women can help prevent heart disease at any age!

When it comes to heart disease, some women make the mistake of thinking that they don't have to worry because they have "good genes," while others think there's nothing they can do to prevent what they consider inevitable due to a family history. "Both of those views are inaccurate," says Dr. Levitt.

Here are some things every woman can do to lower her risks of heart disease:

Blood Pressure: High blood pressure is known as "the silent killer: because it often shows no symptoms but can lead to heart disease, heart failure, or stroke among other things.

"That's why it's important to know your blood pressure and, if it's high, to get it treated and/or make lifestyle changes to lower it," says Dr. Levitt.

Cholesterol: A study published in 2021 in JAMA Cardiology indicates that low density lipoprotein (LDL), or "bad" cholesterol, poses a major risk for coronary heart disease and that its effects are cumulative. "Know your cholesterol numbers," says Dr. Levitt. "At your annual physical, talk to your doctor about how to reach your target range."

Diet: Eat a heart-healthy diet, which generally means one that is rich in whole grains, lean proteins, fruits, and vegetables, and low in saturated fat and cholesterol. Reduce salt and sugar, and skip processed foods.

Exercise: "Most people should do cardiovascular exercise three to four times a week," says Dr. Levitt.

Talk to your provider about a regimen tailored to your specific needs and goals.

Smoking: "If you smoke, stop," says Dr. Levitt. "It will do so much to improve your heart health."

Research has shown that after just one year of quitting, your risk of developing heart disease will be cut by as much as 50 percent.
