Karen Dotson, MHA, Program Director of the Medical College of Wisconsin's (MCW) All of Us (AoU) initiative has been nominated for the Medical College of Wisconsin's President's Award for Community Engagement in the Staff category.

Zeno Franco, PhD and Jeff Whittle, MD, MPH, Site co-principal investigators for AoU, put forth Dotson's nomination in recognition of her tireless leadership, community engagement initiatives, and day-to-day oversight of this groundbreaking and far-reaching program.

"Mrs. Dotson has guided AoU's outreach and program at the Medical College of Wisconsin.

"In this role, she and her staff are responsible for recruiting thousands of ethnically and racially diverse individuals from across greater Milwaukee to ensure the evolution of precision medicine encompasses the needs of all people, not just those who traditionally have participated in biomedical research," said Dr. Franco.

The All of Us Research program at the Medical College of Wisconsin is expected to last for 10 years or more with the goal of helping researchers understand more about why people get sick or stay healthy.

An important component of the program is working to ensure inclusivity, especially among ethnicities and races.

The program's overarching goal is to register more than one million people who are willing to provide information about their health, habits, what it's like, where they live, and if they want information about their DNA.

Hired in 2020 to guide the Medical College of Wisconsin's AoU outreach and engagement efforts while simultaneously overseeing day-to-day program operations, Dotson's efforts have been nothing short of outstanding.

She, her staff and volunteers have undertaken the daunting task of recruiting individuals from across Milwaukee to participate in the research initiative.

"Mrs. Dotson has guided AoU's outreach and program at the Medical College of Wisconsin. In this role, she and her staff are responsible for recruiting thousands of ethnically and racially diverse individuals from across greater Milwaukee to ensure the evolution of precision medicine encompasses the needs of all people, not just those who traditionally have participated in biomedical research..."

An integral part of engaging with ethnic and racial participants is building trust to overcome the history of past abuses and mistrust of minorities toward medical research.

Under Dotson's capable leadership, AoU has successfully navigated and recruited previously underrepresented individuals, increasing from 5,000 to more than 7,000 individuals, of which 1,000 are African American and 500 are Hispanic.

Dotson has moved the project forward even under the unforeseen and devastating COVID-19 pandemic, which struck and crippled the community and, indeed the nation shortly after she took the helm of AoU.

Dotson stepped in and pivoted the program's focus to include meaningful outreach and community engagement by delivering personal protection equipment (PPE) into the appropriate hands of her broad network of churches, community-based organizations and others that previously had limited knowledge of and interactions with AoU.

Working remotely, Dotson not only provided tangible support to these organizations, but worked to ensure that AoU's goals remained at the forefront.

"Her personal relationships with Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC) clinic managers, community partners, and her prior service on FQHC boards enabled us to move thousands of masks during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic," said Dr. Whittle.

The Medical College of Wisconsin's AoU campaign has primarily promoted its initiative through a strong and cohesive community-based print, radio, and church collaboration.

In May, the AoU collaborative will launch a new campaign that continues working jointly to "EL-EVATE" community enrollment.

About All of Us

The mission of national initiative called All of Us is to accelerate health and medical breakthroughs, enabling individualized prevention, treatment and care.

The project aims to collect genetic and health data from one million volunteers.

The initiative was announced during the 2015 State of the Union Address and is run by the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

Alverno College Student Honored as Newman Civic Fellow

Celestina Hertz recognized for commitment to solving public problems

Campus Compact, a national coalition of colleges and universities working to advance the public purposes of higher education, has named 154 student civic leaders who will make up the organization's 2023-2024 cohort of Newman Civic Fellows. Celestina Hertz, a student at Alverno College, will join students from 38 states, Washington, D.C., and Mexico to form the cohort.

This is the seventh consecutive year that an Alverno student has been named a Newman Civic Fellow; Katherine Watson was selected for the 2017 cohort, Alejandra Gonzalez was chosen for the 2018 cohort, Donna Lewis-Taylor was part of the 2019 cohort, Cassandra Abarca was selected for the 2020 cohort, Vania Jurkiewicz was chosen for the 2021 cohort, and Litze Estrada was chosen for the 2022 cohort.

Hertz, a social work major who plans to graduate in 2024, has a passion for civic engagement. She was recently named the representative of the Milwaukee-area university chapters for Youth Empowered in the Struggle (Y.E.S.) under the non-profit Voces De La Frontera, an organization dedicated to civil rights and workers' rights in the Milwaukee community.

As part of Y.E.S., Hertz engages in efforts to raise awareness, participation and advocacy for immigrant rights. She is also a Democracy Fellow for the Campus Vote Project, planning events focused on non-partisan voting education and registration on the Alverno campus.

Hertz has an interest in the juvenile correction system, school social work, foster care and adoption with a focus on how macro-level policy impacts the individual. She is also part of the Thea Bowman Institute for Excellence and Leadership, a cohort-model, full-tuition scholarship program for Black undergraduates who have a strong desire to serve as leaders.

"Celestina turns her compassion for humanity into real action with potential for lasting impact on social justice," said Joseph Foy, PhD, interim president of Alverno College.

"She is truly a standout leader and someone I feel privileged to get to know and work with."

The Newman Civic Fellowship recognizes students who stand out for their commitment to creating positive change in communities locally and around the world. The fellowship is named for the late Frank Newman, one of Campus Compact's founders, who was a tireless advocate for civic engagement in higher education.

In the spirit of Dr. Newman's leadership, fellows are nominated by Campus Compact member presidents and chancellors, who are invited to select one outstanding student from their campus each year.

Through the fellowship, Campus Compact will provide these students with a year of learning and networking opportunities that emphasize personal, professional and civic growth.

Each year, fellows participate in numerous virtual training and networking opportunities to help provide them with the skills and connections they need to create large-scale positive change.

The cornerstone of the fellowship is the Annual Convening of Fellows, which offers intensive in-person skill building and networking over the course of two days. The fellowship also provides fellows with pathways to apply for exclusive scholarship and post-graduate opportunities.

"We are honored to recognize such an outstanding group of community-committed students," said Campus Compact President Bobbie Laur.

"One of the best parts of the Newman Civic Fellowships is the richness of students' perspectives, experiences and backgrounds—and how these varied stories all led to their passionate engagement with the social, political and environmental issues impacting our world. These students will be the catalysts for change on many levels, and we are privileged to help empower them to create that change."

Board of Supervisors Invest Nearly $1 Million to Reimagine Sherman Park

MKE County Board Chair Nicholson

The Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors unanimously adopted recently a proposal to invest $962,303 in federal American Rescue Plan Act funds to improve the safety, vibrancy, and vitality of Sherman Park.

"Sherman Park is near and dear to my heart," said County Board Chairwoman Marcelia Nicholson, whose district (the 10th district) includes the park. "My parents live in the neighborhood. My grandparents owned a home in the area. It is more than just a neighborhood park. It is a beloved gathering place for a diverse range of Milwaukeeans and deserves this transformational investment."

"Last year I brought hundreds of residents together for a fun-filled, family-friendly afternoon at the first Sherman Park Harvest Fest. This showed the power of how an activated park can benefit a community. I look forward to the newly reimagined Sherman Park being a positive force in our county for years to come!"

The Reimagine Sherman Park project is a partnership with the Boys and Girls Club of Greater Milwaukee—which operates its Mary Ryan Center out of the park—and includes 15 total park improvements. The project seeks to improve the park environment, reduce community violence, reduce stormwater runoff, and improve clean water conditions.

County funding will specifically be used to convert a wading pool to a splash pad, upgrade lighting and park pathways, and improve a waste management area. Additional funding will be provided by the Boys and Girls Club of Greater Milwaukee.

DWYANE WADE vs TRAVIS DIENER

CHAMPIONS FOR LITERACY
JUL 22-24 | MILWAUKEE, WI

Marquette Alumni Dwyane Wade and Travis Diener Hosting 3-Day Competition in MKE Area this Summer to Support Youth Literacy Programs

Marquette alumni Dwyane Wade and Travis Diener have announced they will be hosting a three-day event from Saturday, July 22 to Monday, July 24 where they will compete against each other in basketball, golf and other activities to raise the most funds for youth literacy programs in Milwaukee.

Wade and Diener during their playing days at Marquette University

Sunday, July 23: Tailgate party at Discovery World, 500 N Harbor Dr., Milwaukee
Monday, July 24: Golf outing at The Bog, 3121 Country Rd. I, Saukville
Tickets and sponsorships are available for purchase online at WadeVsDiener.givensmart.com.

Wade and Diener became close friends after playing together on the Marquette University basketball team that reached the NCAA Tournament Final Four in 2003. Both went on to have successful professional careers. Three-time NBA Champion Dwyane Wade spent the majority of his 16-years in the NBA playing for the Miami Heat and it was recently announced he will be inducted into the 2023 Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. Diener, who is originally from Fond du Lac, played for several NBA teams, including the Orlando Magic, Indiana Pacers and Portland Trail Blazers. The pair are excited to return to Milwaukee this summer and face off for a good cause.

"I'm looking forward to competing against Travis to raise funds to support literacy programs for kids in Milwaukee," said Wade. "I'm thrilled to be able to continue to give back to a community very close to my heart."

Named after his sister, Wade currently funds The Tragil Wade-Johnson Summer Reading Program through Marquette. The University says in the first three years of the summer reading program, 131 second- and -third grade students—every single participant—either maintained or increased their reading level. Funds raised from the Wade vs. Diener events will help fund literacy programs like this.

"Dwyane [Wade] and I enjoy working with kids," said Diener. "For us to be able to help shape their futures through education, in the city where we both went to college, is really special."

AABN to host Community Convening for Community-Based Doula Training Initiative

The African American Breastfeeding Network (AABN) is planning a Community Convening meeting on Thursday, April 27 to share its plans to train and certify 21 people to become Community-Based Doulas. Taking place at 9 a.m. at the Greater Milwaukee Foundation (101 W. Pleasant Street) this opportunity brings together elected officials, families, health care providers, community/birth workers, and other stakeholders to weigh in on what changes they would like to see in maternal-infant care practices.

Dalvery Blackwell, the AABN Executive Director says, "We've known for decades that the community-based model for doula cares are most effective in Black and Indigenous Communities of Color."

As a person recruited, trained, employed, and residing within the community, a doula provides unique support unmatched by other maternity, health, or social-services.

In January, AABN partnered with HealthConnect One (HC One) to replicate its nationally-recognized and evidence-based community-based doula model.

HC One is the national leader with over 30 years in advancing equitable, community based, peer-to-peer support for pregnancy, birth, breastfeeding, and early parenting.

Starting this summer the TOI leaders will train and certify 21 people over a course of 20 weeks.

"Doulas have been leading the way to provide access to culturally competent, prenatal, birth and postpartum care and support for their communities," says HC One trainer Brenda Reyes.

"AABN's training will expand access to trained and certified doulas of color.

According to its April 2023 Evidence Review, the Prenatal-to-3 Policy Impact Center states local level community-based doula programs have been rigorously studied and proven to be effective."

- The United States has a maternal-infant health crisis fueled by structural racism that drives significant racial disparities in maternal and infant morbidity and mortality. Nationwide, Black women are three times more likely to die from pregnancy-related causes than Non-Hispanic White women, but in Wisconsin, they are five times more likely to die. Furthermore, Black newborn mortality is 2.3 times higher than rates of NHW mortality.

Strengthening the community-based doula workforce and increasing access to care is not new for AABN. Since 2019 the organization has used this evidence-based approach to provide education and training, connect birthing families to doulas, build trusting relationships and advocate for pay equity and protect autonomy and self-determination. Last year through its WeRISE Community Doula Program, AABN served 130 birthing people.

Dalvery Blackwell, AABN Executive Director

Schedule released for the National Crime Victims' Rights Week

WestCare Wisconsin today released the press conference schedule for the Victims' Rights

Week (Apr 24–28), offering a platform for victims and survivors of crime to lift their voices to say stop the violence, in different locations in the Harambee community.

Check out our social media and see the attached full schedule for additional details. The 2023 Victims' Rights Week will kick off the first press conference on Monday, April 24th at 12:00 Noon to speak on Domestic Violence / Sexual Assault at the Victory over Violence (VOV) Park located on Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Drive, between Center and Hadley Street.

Since 1981, National Crime Victims' Rights Week (NCVRW) has challenged the Nation to confront and remove barriers to achieving justice for all victims of crime.

NCVRW is celebrated every year in April to unite crime survivors, victim assistance, justice professionals, and communities across America to pay tribute to victims.

Every April, the Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) leads communities throughout the country in their annual observances of NCVRW.

This year NCVRW will be observed April 23–29. The 2023 NCVRW theme is “Survivor Voices: Elevate. Engage. Effect Change.” The theme calls upon communities to amplify the voices of survivors and commit to creating an environment where survivors have the confidence that they will be heard, believed, and supported.

WestCare Wisconsin will speak out about the urban issues that plague our community; show support to victims and survivors of crime and give them a chance to lift their voices against the violent behavior happening in the local neighborhoods.

Violence creates trauma, PTSD, and other mental health issues for the victims and survivors who probably have no support to recover fully.

So, they are forced to live in fear to protect themselves from the anguish associated with the violence.

We stand with our community partners, the Milwaukee Police Department, to say “NO MORE VIOLENCE! STOP THE VIOLENCE!”

Additional concerned partners, who can assist with basic case management, public relations, safety, and awareness include Community Advocates, Crime Stoppers, Office of Violence Prevention, Sojourner Family Peace Center, Milwaukee County Credible Messengers agencies, 414-Life, Secure Bridges, and WestCare Wisconsin Clinical Services.

Together we stand united in this collective effort to help eliminate crime in the Harambee neighborhoods and throughout our city.

We invite the residents of all ages in the Harambee community to join us to hear about the stats, testimonies, and available resources at each press conference beginning at 12:00 Noon at the different locations: Monday April 24 – Domestic Violence / Sexual Assault; Tuesday April 25 – Homicide / Gun Violence; Wednesday April 26 – Mental Health; Thursday April 27 – Non-Fatal Crimes / Reckless Driving; and Friday April 28 – Human Trafficking.
