

WISCONSIN HAS THE #1 BEST MENTAL HEALTH CARE

Wisconsin has THE BEST mental health care anywhere in the nation according to a recent study by QuoteWizard.com.

The study found Wisconsinites have access to some of the best mental health care in the U.S. The state has a high degree of access to care, a low number of uninsured residents with mental health issues and a low number of people with a mental illness who are experiencing unmet needs.

Illinois and Pennsylvania follow Wisconsin, respectively.

To determine the best states for mental health care, our analysts looked at five key factors:

- Prevalence of mental illness in each state
- Access to mental health care
- Percent of those with a mental illness not receiving care
- Percent of those with a mental illness\
- Mental illness and health insurance

Americans are struggling with mental health. Nationwide, more people are taking prescription mental health medication, anxiety and depression levels are rising, suicidal ideation is increasing and 11% of people with a mental illness don't have insurance.

There are, however, some states (like Wisconsin) that are at the forefront of mental health care.

The QuoteWizard.com team of analysts found that these states have both high access to mental health care and low numbers of people without health insurance.

States were evaluated based on data from Mental Health America. Overall rankings were determined by a composite score based on access to care, insurance rates and the prevalence of mental illness in each state.

RECLAIMING OUR NEIGHBORHOODS COALITION, ROCKET COMMUNITY FUND

DEBUT RESULTS OF COMPREHENSIVE PARCEL SURVEY ASSESSING MILWAUKEE HOUSING CONDITIONS

Survey conducted across 15 neighborhoods funded by $460,000 Rocket Community Fund investment - part of an overall $550,000 data collection effort.

The Rocket Community Fund and the Reclaiming Our Neighborhoods (RON) Coalition recently announced the findings of a groundbreaking new parcel-based assessment in Milwaukee, providing real-time data on housing conditions and insight into necessary interventions to achieve greater housing stability in the city.

The report presents a summary of exterior housing conditions across 15 Milwaukee neighborhoods and is the first such aggregated survey of its kind.

The information from the survey has been combined with parcel information from the City of Milwaukee, including information about ownership and tax delinquency status, to create a powerful dataset that provides deeper insight into the need for greater investment into Milwaukee's housing stock. In total, 19,827 properties were surveyed, of which 16,913 were residential or mixed use.

"We are thrilled to present RON's inaugural Milwaukee Housing Condition Report, which draws on extensive data from the city's near north and south side neighborhoods," said Darryl Johnson, Executive Director of Riverworks Development Corporation.

"This survey backs up what we see and hear daily from our residents - homeowners take better care of their properties than investors do. It also validates the extreme need for innovative approaches and strategies to enhance housing conditions in our community."

Neighborhood canvassers systematically evaluated each individual property using a digital survey tool and specified the type of property, its exterior condition and whether major repairs were needed to certain elements of the property. Example repair categories included a property's chimney, shingles, gutters, porch and more.

The survey, which cost $550,000 overall for execution and administration, was primarily funded by a $460,000 investment by the Rocket Community Fund. The Rocket

EPSILON KAPPA OMEGA CHAPTER OF ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA SORORITY INC. WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT SEMINAR

The Epsilon Kappa Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. recently hosted over 80 women and children from the Milwaukee community at its Women's Empowerment Seminar at Alverno College.

The seminar's theme was The Renaissance Woman: Refined, Renewed, and Restored. Bianca Willingham and her co-chairs, Eria Caldwell, and Brianna Jackson, chaired the event. It was well attended.

The Epsilon Kappa Omega Chapter, chartered May 11, 1949, has made significant strides in Milwaukee with award-winning programs for preschool to high school students, preparatory workshops for parents and their nique Carrington, and the vice president is Toi Lisa Mark-Lockett.

There are currently over 300 chapter members representing a broad spectrum of disciplines and expertise as educators, businesswomen, lawyers, medical professionals, theologians, and entrepreneurs – to name a few.

sisterhood.

The vision of this seminar was a success in offering a safe space for women to share their stories, struggles, and aspirations.

The purpose of Bianca Willingham and her team is to build and establish partnerships with the women of this community and develop long-lasting relationships with stakeholders.

It creates the ability to provide opportunities for fellowship and sharing of valuable resources, which enhance sisterhood in our community.

The empowerment seminar for women offered six college-bound children, and community enrichment to help them build a solid economic legacy.

Community Fund aims to simplify complex and inequitable systems to ensure that every American has access to stable, healthy housing.

In addition to Milwaukee, the Detroit-based organization invests in housing stability efforts in Detroit, Cleveland and Atlanta.

"Stable, healthy communities begin with stable, healthy homes," said Laura Granemann, the Executive Director of the Rocket Community Fund. "These survey results provide a foundation for action. As a community, we can now follow up to connect residents to programs and interventions that will improve the quality of Milwaukee homes, as well as the safety and stability of Milwaukee families."

The results of the survey underscore the challenges of Milwaukee's housing crisis, which include a lack of affordable and quality housing, as well as disparities in access to resources, particularly for low-income residents.

To tackle this crisis, the Rocket Community Fund and RON Coalition are advocating for increased funding for affordable housing and home repair, better code enforcement, fair housing policies and more investment in historically neglected neighborhoods.

KEY FINDINGS

Results from the parcel survey found:

- Of all the residential and mixed-use properties, 3,818 - nearly a quarter - needed at least one major repair.
- 2,486 properties – roughly 15% – need multiple major repairs.
- The percentage of investor-owned residential properties that need multiple major repairs is nearly double the percentage of owner-occupied homes in a similar condition.

- About 15% of the homes surveyed, or 2,537 properties, may have an increased risk of lead exposure since they were built prior to 1979 and were noted as having deteriorated exterior paint conditions.

- The total investment needed across the 15 neighborhoods is $54,094,700, using estimated average costs for the major exterior repairs identified.

The report provides a valuable resource for RON Coalition partners to determine which renters and homeowners may need support and which landlords own properties that are in poor condition.

The coalition can use this information to advocate for system-wide changes in policy and investment strategies to better support Milwaukee's residents and housing market.

The report was prepared by Data You Can Use, a nonprofit focused on data for improving conditions in Milwaukee.

The RON Coalition is comprised of 11 neighborhood nonprofit partners including Amani United, Dominican Center, VIA CDC, Clarke Square Neighborhood Initiative, Milwaukee Christian Center, Muskego Way Forward, Sherman Park Community Association, United Methodist Children's Services (UMCS), Riverworks Development Corp, Near West Side Partners and Walnut Way Conservation Corp.

The parcel survey was conducted in the following 15 neighborhoods: Amani, Avenues West, Burnham Park, Clarke Square, Cold Spring Park, Concordia, Harambee, Layton Park, Lindsey Heights, Martin Drive, Miller Valley, Muskego Way, Sherman Park, Silver City and Washington Park.

segments that included women's health, beauty, wellness, mental and emotional well-being, a college tour by Alverno staff, and financial literacy.

Participants enjoyed relaxation techniques of exercise and dance.

Health professionals from the Milwaukee Chapter of the Black Nurses Association spoke about listening to your body, healthy eating, nutrition, and advocacy.

The day also included local several Black business owners. Tiffany Moore, CEO of Moore Affordable Credit, presented an understanding of one's credit and financial literacy. Ebony Ramey, founder, and CEO of Ebony Esthetics, an esthetician, discussed skin-care and healthy skin. The women received gift bags, continental breakfast, and lunch.

At the end of the seminar, all participants were gifted with a pearl necklace set as a reminder that pearls are priceless and precious, just like they are.

The women's empowerment seminar included a Success Closet where participants were able to select pre-loved business and career wear.

The success closet included clothing, jewelry, scarves, handbags, and shoes.

The purpose of the success closet was to ensure that every woman left the event job-savvy and career ready with attire that can be worn on job interviews or work.

All items from the success closet were completely free! Participants who shopped in the success closet left the seminar looking and feeling good.

The items that were left over from the chapter's Success Closet were donated to Alverno College for its success closet.

This provided college students with the opportunity to obtain career wear for job interviews and to wear for work and upon graduation.

Epsilon Kappa Omega's partnership with Alverno College regarding dressing for success will be ongoing.

KEVIN HART OFFERS SUPPORT TO AILING JAMIE FOXX

HART SAYS FOXX HAS SHOWN A "LOT OF PROGRESSION" SINCE HIS HOSPITALIZATION IN APRIL! BY THEGRIO STAFF

KEVIN HART

Kevin Hart sent some love and well-wishes to fellow comic Jamie Foxx.

Hart said Foxx has shown a "lot of progression" since his hospitalization last month.

During an appearance Tuesday on Jake Paul's "Impulsive" podcast, Hart commented on Foxx's health.

"I think the dope thing is that he's getting better in his situation and everybody's prayers, everybody's love, energy, all that stuff is seen and felt."

Hart said he's heard that Foxx is doing better but does not know much beyond that. "I don't know the details or the exact details as to what's going on, but to my knowledge, there's a lot of progression and a world of better."

Foxx's daughter Corinne Foxx disclosed the Academy Award-winning actor's hospitalization on April 12. She said her father was recovering after a "medical complication." Details of Foxx's condition are still unknown at this time.

Hart stated that Foxx is a "needed" and "necessary" member of the entertainment community and that the public well-wishes and prayers continue to help speed Foxx's recovery.

Foxx feels the love from the public and he hopes that it continues as he recovers, Hart added.

Foxx, who was filming the Netflix action comedy, "Back in Action," at the time of his hospitalization, broke his silence on Wednesday for the first time since his health scare, posting a message to fans on Instagram.

"Appreciate all the love!!! Feeling blessed."
