PACKER QB JORDAN LOVE

The Green Bay Packers lost to the Minnesota Vikings 27 to 25 before a sold-out crowd at US Bank Stadium in Minneapolis. The Packers came out cold and only scored three points in the first half. But they finished strong in the second half of the game. However they couldn't close the door on the Vikes. The winner of the Vikings vs. Detroit game in Detroit on Sunday will decide home field advantage throughout the playoffs. The Packers have to win against Chicago and the Washington Commander's have to lose to the Cowboys on Sunday for the Pack to get the sixth seed in the NFC. Dr. Bobby Jones, gospel vocalist, TV and radio host, is set to receive a Lifetime Achievement Award during The Recording Academy's Special Merit Award ceremony during Grammy week next month.

Jones' love of music blossomed as a youth when he sang with the church choir. He set out for Nashville, Tennessee, as soon as he could and ended up teaching himself how to play the piano. He worked his way through college by playing in churches. Jones has a PhD in education and was a teacher.

But at the same time, he was also organizing and recording with gospel groups.

His career in entertainment began in 1976 when he convinced WSM-TV in Nashville to let him launch a gospel show that highlighted singers and churches in the region.

In the 1980s, he cultivated Bobby Jones Gospel on BET.

The show became one of the longest-running original series in cable television history.

Jones has an expansive discography spanning 14 releases.

He has won more than 1,500 awards including a Grammy for Best Soul Gospel Performance by a Duo or Group for "I'm So Glad I'm Standing Here Today."

Now, he'll be able to add another Grammy to his collection with The Special Merit Award.

Grammys Lifetime Achievement Award

The Special Merit Award is presented by vote of the Recording Academy's National Trustees.

It's given to performers who have made creative contributions of outstanding artistic significance to the field of recording during their lifetimes.

Frankie Beverly, Prince, Roxanne Shante, The Clash, Taj Mahal and Frankie Valli will also receive the Lifetime Achievement Award during the Feb. 1 ceremony.

"It's an amazing privilege to honor this eclectic group of music icons during the year's biggest week in music," said CEO of the Recording Academy Harvey

Racist flyers were found targeting immigrant communities in the area

BY AMARI APPLE, RollingOut

In a troubling incident that underscores the persistent presence of White supremacy in America, racist flyers were discovered in the Milwaukee area, targeting immigrant communities and promoting hateful ideologies.

This alarming event comes on the heels of the election of a president who has been described as friendly to White nationalist sentiments, raising questions about the ongoing anger and grievances among White supremacists.

Details of the incident

According to reports from the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, several versions of these flyers were found near Ohio Playfield and local elementary schools.

Alders Marina Dimitrijevic and Scott Spiker confirmed that community members discovered baggies containing the flyers while walking their dogs.

The flyers included messages calling for mass deportations of undocumented immigrants and promoting a so-called "White power unity."

A targeted attack

The area where these flyers were distributed is notably diverse, with a significant Latino population and a growing Burmese Rohingya community.

Dimitrijevic emphasized that the distribution of these flyers was a targeted act, intended to instill fear and spread hate just before school hours, a time when families were likely to be out and about.

The absurdity of White supremacist claims

One flyer in particular raised eyebrows with its provocative question: "Who's working in the in-

Dr. Gail C. Christopher

IN WASHINGTON MONTHLY, DR. GAIL C. CHRISTOPHER OFFERS A DEEP ANALYSIS OF THE ELECTION AND ITS IMPACT ON AMERICA'S WELLBEING & HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

WASHINGTON – In a new Washington Monthly article, Dr. Gail C. Christopher asserts that the November election warrants a “much deeper examination” of what happened, how it happened, and the impact on the nation’s health, well-being, and hope for the future.

She emphasizes, “It’s a bit cliché, but this must become a teachable moment. We must learn from this campaign never to be so divided again.” It is an urgent call to action.

Dr. Christopher, the Executive Director of the National Collaborative for Health Equity (NCHE), said she reached the conclusion that a deep dive is necessary after visiting a friend who was overwhelmed by the election results.

“A few days ago, I stopped by a local nonprofit run by a friend who helps refugees, immigrants, and formerly incarcerated victims of abuse get jobs that can transform their lives,” she wrote. “I was there to donate, and when I found my friend distressed, I asked why he was so down. He had recently lost his dog of 14 years. Then, days later, his mother passed. I embraced him, expressing my condolences. As we embraced, he said, “And then my country died.”

His reference, she wrote, was “to the election, which put one party in charge of the White House, Senate, and House.

And in that moment, I realized that perhaps half of the nation’s voting population is grieving what they perceive to be the death of their country. I contemplated how America came to this.

After an election marked by harsh and extreme rhetoric, whatever the outcome, half the country would dwell in grief, convinced that the world’s oldest democracy was finished. Why?”

Dr. Christopher explained why the election campaign unfolded as it did.

“The campaign rhetoric was often shaped in terms of strong men,” she wrote. “Well, I have known some strong men in my life. My father was a strong man. Serving in Europe during World War II, he was lucky; he came home alive, met my mother, and started a family. I think of my son as a strong man.

He is a choreographer, dancer, and artist. I have a friend who is Jewish but professes to be an atheist who’s dedicated his life to civil rights.

Another strong man in my life is my handyman, who unclogs toilets, removes trees downed by high winds, and never says no to my obsession with needing new bookshelves.

What bonds them is a strength characterized by hard work, dedication, service, compassion, kindness, a minimum of complaint, and no self-pity. “

Further, she wrote, “Each of my strong men supports a woman’s right to choose and to reproductive healthcare.

Their qualities sharply contrast those targeted by campaigns in rural, suburban, and urban America toward men of all ages, races, and ethnicities with an urgent need to simultaneously feel strong and victimized. With extremist views rising at home and abroad, these men are the followers, searching for ways to embrace symbols and positions perceived to make them look strong.”

More significantly, she added, “Today, strength for too many males is characterized by bombast, lying, bullying, violence, and attacking the vulnerable.”

In other examples, Dr. Christopher noted that some campaign groups spent over $21 million on ads demonizing the transgender population, while only 1.7 % of the global and U.S. population experiences genetically based variations in sexual expression. And the lie was spread that immigrants committed high rates of crime in the country when the opposite is true.

“The demonization is possible because of toxic social media, algorithmically driven communications, and the news landscape,” she wrote.

This social media environment manipulates emotions using fear and hatemongering for personal and political gain.

There must be reform and regulations to stop the lies and fake news from becoming ingrained as conventional wisdom. This must not be allowed to shape future campaigns.”

Dr. Christopher maintained that unregulated social media is contributing to the stress and grief experienced during and after this recent campaign. “It’s naive to think this tumult will pass on its own.

This level of despair and hopelessness does not bode well for our democracy. Violent rhetoric and bullying the vulnerable can unleash an addictive cascade of hormones. In other words, the more you bully, the more likely you want to do it.”

The negative impact of unregulated social media is a pressing issue that needs to be addressed.

Dr. Christopher, one of the nation’s leading experts on healing, offers recommendations on how American society can stand up against the onslaught of violent rhetoric, lies, dehumanization, and cruelty that was centered in a presidential election campaign.

terest of White Americans?”

This question reflects a broader narrative among some White conservatives who feel aggrieved despite the overwhelming privileges they hold in society.

For years, red states have been enacting laws to ban critical race theory and other educational content that addresses systemic racism, all in an effort to protect White fragility.

Historical context of White supremacy
Historically, White Americans have dominated political and social structures in the United States.

Currently, White individuals make up approximately 86.6 percent percent of Wisconsin’s population and over 70 percent of the national demographic.

Furthermore, White people represent 77 percent of Congress

THE STATE OF WISCONSIN, TO THE PERSON NAMED ABOVE AS RESPONDENT:

You are notified that the petitioner named above has filed a Petition for divorce or legal separation against you.

You must respond with a written demand for a copy of the Petition within 40 days from the day after the first day of publication.

The demand must be sent or delivered to the court at: Clerk of Court, Milwaukee County Courthouse 901 N 9th St Room 104 Milwaukee WI 53233 and to NICOLE SHANTALE OGLESBY P.O. BOX 170634 Milwaukee WI 53217

A judgment may be enforced as provided by law. A judgment awarding money may become a lien against any real estate you own now or in the future and may also be enforced by garnishment or seizure of property.

You are further notified that if the parties to this action have minor children, violation of 948.31 Wis. Stats., (Interference with custody by parent or others) is punishable by fines and/or imprisonment:

If you and the petitioner have minor children, documents setting forth the percentage standard for child support established by the department under 49.22(9), Wis. You are notified of the availability of information from the Circuit Court Commissioner as set forth in 767.105 Wis. Stats.

Milwaukee community fights back against White supremacist flyers!

Given these statistics, the notion of White oppression seems unfounded and highlights the irrational fears propagated by White supremacist groups.

The role of law enforcement

In response to the distribution of these flyers, local law enforcement, including the FBI, has become involved in the investigation. However, the underlying issue remains: the irrational anger and sense of victimhood among White supremacists persist, regardless of who occupies the White House.

Community response and moving forward

The discovery of these flyers has sparked outrage among community leaders and residents.

Many are calling for increased awareness and action

“The discovery of these flyers has sparked outrage among community leaders and residents. Many are calling for increased awareness and action against hate crimes and racism. It is crucial for communities to come together to denounce these acts of hate and support one another in the face of such adversity.”

against hate crimes and racism.

It is crucial for communities to come together to denounce these acts of hate and support one another in the face of such adversity.

The recent incident in Milwaukee serves as a stark reminder that White supremacy remains a significant issue in America.

As communities grapple with the implications of these hateful messages, it is essential to foster dialogue, promote inclusivity and stand against racism in all its forms.

Only through collective action can we hope to dismantle the structures of hate and build a more equitable society for all.
