Superintendent Kicks Off Listen and Learn Tour

Families, Staff, and Community Invited to Share Their Vision for the District

Milwaukee Public Schools (MPS) Superintendent Brenda Cassellius kicked off a Listen and Learn Tour on Monday, June 23, as part of her transition leading Wisconsin's largest school district.

Over the next several weeks, members of the MPS community and the public will have the opportunity to share their thoughts and ideas about the future of the school district.

"While I've been listening and learning from a variety of stakeholders since I arrived in Milwaukee in mid-March, I'm excited to kick off this tour to hear directly from families, staff, and the community about their hopes and dreams for our students and our district," said Dr. Cassellius.

"There is so much opportunity in Milwaukee and we must be willing to come together and understand what has to change to make a difference for our young people. I'm excited to meet more of the MPS community this summer."

The initial listen and learn sessions will take place from June through August, with other events being added in the future.

The first of eight sessions began Monday, June 23, at James Madison High School.

Superintendent Cassellius will use the information gathered at Listen and Learn Tour sessions to inform her areas of focus to advance the district forward, with an objective of accelerating student performance.

All events are free and open to the public.

Childcare and language interpretation services are available with advance notice, which can be done by signing up at mpsmke.com/listenlearn-tour.

Superintendent Cassellius listens to community members at the first Listen and Learn session.

NASA LEGEND KATHERINE JOHNSON INCLUDED AMONG AVIATION HEROES IN SPECIAL MAGAZINE "250 YEARS OF FLIGHT" By Fred Outten

WASHINGTON, D.C. – "Katherine Johnson: The Woman Who Charted the Path to the Stars," headlines the article about NASA's legendary mathematician in a special, just-released magazine by McClatchy Lifestyle Specials honoring historic aviation heroes in 250 YEARS OF FLIGHT, A Breathtaking Journey From Dirigibles To Space Travel.

After nearly 60 years of being "hidden" with the African American human computer women of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) now NASA, Katherine Johnson, known as the Woman of the 20th Century, is finally being included among national and international aviation's greatest minds the likes of Leonardo da Vinci, Isaac Newton, the Wright Brothers, Charles Lindbergh, Bessie Coleman, Chuck Yeager, The Tuskegee Airmen, Amelia Earhart, John Glenn, Wernher von Braun, and so many more highlighted in this special magazine that traces the history of flight!

NASA LEGEND

Katherine Johnson’s mathematical genius was crucial in helping the United States win the Space Race. At NASA, Johnson’s unprecedented mathematical calculations of orbital mechanics, calculating trajectories, were critical to the success of the first and subsequent U.S.-crewed spaceflights, from the U.S. first man in space Alan Shepard’s Freedom 7 mission in 1961, to John Glenn’s orbits in 1962, to the calculation of the trajectory for the historic first successful crewed 1969 Apollo 11 Moon landing and subsequent Apollo missions, to the Space Shuttle program and to the Earth Resources Satellite.

Even after her passing, Katherine Johnson’s work is still utilized to further the success of space exploration to this day!

We, The Last Episode: Veterans For Social Justice (VFSJ), are committed to ensuring that Katherine Johnson’s legacy continues to be remembered and honored for generations to come.

After over 60 years of being a hidden story, President Barack Obama presented Katherine Johnson with the Presidential Medal of Freedom on November 24, 2015, the highest civilian award of the United States, for her pioneering legacy.

Then came the landmark book in 2016 by Margot Lee Shetterly, Hidden Figures, and a subsequent movie in 2017 about Ms. Johnson’s life, also titled Hidden Figures, finally revealed the trailblazing accomplishments of this great American hero, Katherine Johnson, and the Human Computer Women.

In 2019, our music group, VFSJ, released a special music tribute to Katherine Johnson and the Human Computer Women in a music CD titled, “Has Anybody Seen Katherine Johnson,” written in the format of a Broadway Musical.

In 2024, The Last Episode: Veterans For Social Justice (VFSJ), nominated and was successful in having Katherine Johnson accepted for induction into three prestigious Halls of Fame: on March 23, 2024, Women in Aviation International (WAI) inducted Katherine Johnson (posthumously) into their International Pioneer Hall of Fame Class of 2024 in Orlando, Florida; on September 14, 2024, Katherine Johnson was (posthumously) inducted into the National Aviation Hall of Fame Class of 2024 in Dayton, Ohio; and on November 9, 2024, Katherine Johnson was inducted (posthumously) into the International Air & Space Hall of Fame Class of 2024 in San Diego, California.

On August 22, 2024, Katherine Johnson received the prestigious national and international Humanitarian of All Mankind (HOAM) Award (posthumously) from ASEP (Acknowledging Special Events and Projects). Katherine Johnson received the HOAM Award for her lifetime achievements and contributions to aviation safety and helping to broaden the scope of space travel, charting new frontiers for humanity’s exploration of space and creating new possibilities for all humankind, and for inspiring countless students to learn about the benefits of STEM.

And on September 18, 2024, the families of Katherine Johnson, Dorothy Vaughan, Mary Jackson, and Christine Darden were presented with the long overdue Congressional Gold Medal on behalf of these brilliant Human Computer Women of NASA.

Thanks to the West Virginia University Libraries and the West Virginia and Regional History Center, Katherine Johnson’s life and career can be researched through the Katherine Goble Johnson Papers under the Distinguished West Virginians Program that announced the opening of Johnson’s archives in September 2023.

The archives include notebooks, photographs, correspondence, memorabilia, awards, and other materials that can now be accessed by the public.

Keep Summer Fun & Safe for Pets With These Tips from the TurfMutt Foundation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — As temperatures rise and summer adventures call, the TurfMutt Foundation, which champions healthy outdoor spaces for people and pets, encourages pet parents to keep safety in mind to ensure happy tails all summer long.

“Mulligan the TurfMutt and I really enjoy the dog days of summer,” says Kris Kiser, President & CEO of the TurfMutt Foundation. “But from unexpected storms to scorching pavement and even the choices we make in our backyards, a little preparation goes a long way in making sure our fur friends stay safe this summer.”

The TurfMutt Foundation shares these crucial tips:

- Storm Smarts

Storms can be scary for pets. Always have a safe, quiet space for them indoors, and ensure their ID tags and microchip registration are current. It’s also smart to pack a pet emergency kit packed in case you need to evacuate. Include medications, water, food, waste bags, and anything else you might need to make your pet feel comfortable.

- Beat the Heat

Always provide plenty of fresh water and shade, and a spot indoors for them to cool off during extremely hot days. Choose the cooler parts of the day to walk your dog, and check the pavement temperature before heading out. If it’s too hot for your hand, it’s too hot for their paws.

- Travel Ready

Planning a trip and want to take Fido along? A crate is the safest option in a car and it should be big enough for your pet to stand, sit and turn around. Never leave your pets in a hot car. Bring everything they need to stay healthy and comfortable – from food and leashes to medication and favorite toys.

- Right Plant, Right Place

Your backyard is your pet’s playground, so plant with care. Choose non-toxic vegetation and always opt for real grass over artificial turf. Natural turf stays cooler under the summer sun, is gentler on paws, and provides vital environmental support. For more, consult the ASPCA’s list of toxic and non-toxic plants here.

MILWAUKEE NONPROFITS INVITED TO APPLY FOR $45K REACH GRANT

Additional one-time funding also available for high-impact projects

The Real Estate Alliance for Charity (REACH) today announced that applications are open for its 2025 Charitable Giving Program, which awards a three-year grant totaling $45,000 to a Wisconsin-based nonprofit that provides direct services to children and families.

The deadline to apply is Friday, July 25, 2025.

REACH is the primary charitable organization for the commercial real estate community in Southeast Wisconsin, supported by local CRE professionals and businesses as well as a coalition of associations, including BOMA, CARW, CCIM, NAIOP, SIOR, IREM and WCREW. Since 1998, the organization has donated nearly $1 million to dozens of local nonprofits.

Each year, REACH selects one nonprofit to receive $15,000 annually for three years, for a total donation of $45,000.

The organization's intent is to have a significant impact on smaller organizations that may sometimes be overlooked by larger foundations and programs.

Current recipients include Fondy Food Center, PEARLS for Teen Girls and Walker's Point Youth & Family Center.

In addition to the flagship Charitable Giving Program, REACH will also distribute one-time High Impact Grants in 2025.

These flexible grants—typically up to $5,000—are designed for immediate needs or opportunities aligned with REACH's mission to improve the lives of those in need, especially children, through financial and in-kind support from Wisconsin's commercial real estate community.

Past recipients include Sweet Abilities, Meta House, Prevent Blindness and others.

"REACH exists to support the incredible work being done by small but mighty nonprofits that serve youth and families across Wisconsin," said Rob Habich, REACH President and Chief Legal Officer at Marquee Capital.

"We're honored to be a bridge between the commercial real estate industry and organizations that are positively impacting the lives of those in our community."
